

THOUSANDS JAM CAPITOL 'BARBICANE' TO BUY $3 TAGS PUT ON SALE BY TALMADGE

ROOSEVELT LAYS ENTIRE PROGRAM BEFORE LEADERS

Farm and Home Refinancing, Rail and Bank Reorganization and Unemployment Relief Measures Win Highest Praise.

AID TO STATES IS ONE PHASE

Lowering of Farm Interest Charges and Immediate Reforestation Activity Are Part of Plan.

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON. WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—President Roosevelt laid down his reconstruction program for the extra session of congress to congressional leaders tonight and received in return a "go ahead" signal.

He added to his pending emergency measures the subjects of agriculture and home refinancing; railroad and banking reorganization; and a three-fold unemployment effort.

Speaking for the congressional leaders after the two-hour White House party, Speaker Rainey said:

"We are going right ahead with the president's reconstruction program without adjournment. We will pass the pending farm relief bill tomorrow and we also expect tomorrow a message from the president proposing immediate work in national forests."

The group of congressional chiefs representing almost every variety of thought on Capitol Hill walked from the White House into the rainy night smiling, leaving to the president, for the most part, a re-counting of the evening's work.

The following statement later was issued from the executive mansion through Stephen T. Early, a secretary to the president:

"A most interesting discussion was held between the president and a number of senators and members of the house of representatives. The discussion covered many phases of the economic program."

The subjects discussed included, among others, farm relief through efforts to raise crop prices and legislation to prevent the foreclosure of mortgages on both homes and farms; a problem to improve and co-ordinate railroad operations; another program relating to the general problem of transportation; and the immediate unemployment relief efforts divided into three parts—immediate work in national and state forests, government aid to states and a future program of public works.

"In the field of banking, correction of existing abuses was discussed."

Speaker Rainey said the plans for lowering the interest rates to the debt-burdened farmers and home-owners probably would be brought

Continued in Page 4, Column 8.

3 Alabama Fugitives Ship Selves to Prison

MONTGOMERY, Ala., March 20.—(AP)—Three fugitives from No. 4 prison camp, near here, boarded the wrong train last night after effecting their escape, and went to sleep.

They awoke this morning when the door of their box car was opened from without. The car was on a siding inside the walls of Speigner prison.

SENATE AFFIXES FINAL APPROVAL TO 3.2 BEER BILL

By NATHAN ROBERTSON. WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—Beer and wine of 3.2 per cent by April 5 or 6 was assured millions of Americans today when the senate approved a conference report on the bill legalizing manufacture and sale of the beverages.

The measure was sent to the house, where it will be approved shortly after noon tomorrow and forwarded to the White House probably in time for President Roosevelt to sign it by midnight.

Fifteen days later it will be legal to buy the beverages everywhere except where state or local law forbids.

Final senate approval was given by the narrow margin of 43 to 38, after Senators Borah, republican, Idaho, and Sheppard, democrat, Texas, both prohibition leaders for many years, had taken a final fling at the bill's constitutionality.

Borah read recent statement by brewers that the bill would permit the sale of beer at 43 to 58, after Senators Borah, republican, Idaho, and Sheppard, democrat, Texas, both prohibition leaders for many years, had taken a final fling at the bill's constitutionality.

The senate's action came less than two hours after conferees from the two houses had compromised differences in the bill as passed at the two ends of the capitol by striking out the prohibition amendment, and adopting 3.2 per cent as the alcoholic limitation instead of 3.05.

As the roll was called, the balloting was so close that sponsors of the bill were somewhat fearful of the outcome.

Three senators who voted for the bill were standing vote.

Continued in Page 5, Column 3.

Japanese Repulse Attacks of Chinese

LENGKOW, Manchuria, Tuesday, March 21.—(UP)—Beleaguered Japanese advance units today held their posts at portals of the Great Wall of China in the face of determined Chinese attacks.

Bayonets and rifles were used in a hand-to-hand engagement here. The Chinese, beaten off in one attack, were joined by 3,000 revolting Manchurian advance units today held their posts at portals of the Great Wall of China in the face of determined Chinese attacks.

At Chiehlingkow, a Chinese attack was beaten off. Three hundred Chinese were reported to have been killed. The Japanese, entrenched and able to use machine guns against the attacks, were confident of holding all positions.

House Approves U. S. Relief For Distressed State Banks

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—Federal help for state banks was voted overwhelmingly by the house today with indications that the senate also would act shortly to pass the bill extending provisions of the emergency banking law to around 9,000 state banks and trust companies.

House approval was not given, however, until noon members—Breed, republican, Maine—questioned the origin of the measure and indicated he believed Senator Huey Long, democrat, Louisiana, was responsible for it.

Chairman Steagham, of the banking committee, spoke promptly in denial. He insisted that "the authorship of this bill is traceable directly to the president and is due to his concern for the necessity of doing something for state banks."

Almost immediately afterward the house approved the measure without even a standing vote.

FRENCH WILL HEAR MUSSOLINI'S PLAN FROM MACDONALD

British Prime Minister Is En Route From Rome To Paris To Tell Daladier of Peace Proposals.

By ANDRE BERDING. ROME, March 20.—(AP)—The eyes of official Italy turned toward Paris tonight as Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's train passed the frontier, carrying to Premier Daladier of France, the Mussolini peace plan which would embrace the entire continent of Europe and, to a certain extent, even the United States.

More optimism was felt here than usual over French agreement to the confidence expressed by Mr. MacDonald and the cordial spirit evidenced by Henry De Jovanel, the French ambassador, after he had telephoned the contents of the plan to Paris.

The ambassador appeared at the railway station as the British premier cut for city employees, refused to cut $12,500,000 from real estate assessments for the year, and deferred any action looking toward adoption of a balanced budget which would have paved the way for past due pay rolls for 4,500 municipal employees.

Assistant Chief O. J. Parker was elected unanimously to the post of chief of the Atlanta fire department, succeeding William Butler, who resigned after appointment to succeed the late John Terrell. Chief Butler will be given his former post of first assistant chief.

Warren Leak was elected councilman from the second ward, succeeding the late Councilman Charles H. Sims.

Vote on the council election was as follows: For McTear: Richards, Scott, Huie, Aldridge, Murphy, Almond, Berman, White, Knight, Childs, Owen, Hastings, Marler, Rogers and Wilson, 15. For Leak: Coleman, Mitchell, Bow-

Continued in Page 4, Column 1.

3 Solons Waive Right To Double Mileage

Three members of the general assembly have waived their right to double mileage for the concurrent sessions of 1933, it was learned Monday at the office of the state treasurer.

The extra mileage is being paid on under a concurrent resolution of the house and senate following a ruling by the attorney-general as to the procedure.

Senators J. Rendell Terrell, of LaGrange, and Frank Morris, of Marietta, and Representative A. W. Daugherty, of Wilkinson county, have refused to accept the extra mileage, it was said, knowing whether others will decline mileage at the double rate, as many of the members have not called for their money.

Bayonets and rifles were used in a hand-to-hand engagement here. The Chinese, beaten off in one attack, were joined by 3,000 revolting Manchurian advance units today held their posts at portals of the Great Wall of China in the face of determined Chinese attacks.

At Chiehlingkow, a Chinese attack was beaten off. Three hundred Chinese were reported to have been killed. The Japanese, entrenched and able to use machine guns against the attacks, were confident of holding all positions.

As the roll was called, the balloting was so close that sponsors of the bill were somewhat fearful of the outcome.

Three senators who voted for the bill were standing vote.

Continued in Page 5, Column 3.

Italian Pays Extreme Penalty For Murder of Mayor Cermak

RAIFORD, Fla., March 20.—(AP)—The finale of an assassin's furious drama of bullets that missed President Roosevelt but killed Mayor Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago, was enacted in the Florida state prison today as Giuseppe Zangara died in the electric chair with a last shout of defiance.

The shadow of death lowering over the little Italian in the small execution chamber, he had done all along, the raging bitterness against all rulers of men that led him to loose a withering fire at the president in Miami the night of February 15.

"Lousy capitalists! Capitalists! All capitalists! Lousy bunch! Crooks!"—that was the cry of the swarthy immigrant a few moments before 2:30 p.m. as he advanced toward the electric chair with a last shout of defiance.

Council Sidesteps Cut, Elects Parker and Leak

Warren Leak was elected councilman from the second ward, succeeding the late Councilman Charles H. Sims.

Vote on the council election was as follows: For McTear: Richards, Scott, Huie, Aldridge, Murphy, Almond, Berman, White, Knight, Childs, Owen, Hastings, Marler, Rogers and Wilson, 15. For Leak: Coleman, Mitchell, Bow-

Continued in Page 4, Column 1.

ZANGARA, DEFENDING CAPITALISTS, DIES AS CITY CHAIRMAN

Italian Pays Extreme Penalty For Murder of Mayor Cermak.

RAIFORD, Fla., March 20.—(AP)—The finale of an assassin's furious drama of bullets that missed President Roosevelt but killed Mayor Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago, was enacted in the Florida state prison today as Giuseppe Zangara died in the electric chair with a last shout of defiance.

The shadow of death lowering over the little Italian in the small execution chamber, he had done all along, the raging bitterness against all rulers of men that led him to loose a withering fire at the president in Miami the night of February 15.

"Lousy capitalists! Capitalists! All capitalists! Lousy bunch! Crooks!"—that was the cry of the swarthy immigrant a few moments before 2:30 p.m. as he advanced toward the electric chair with a last shout of defiance.

As the roll was called, the balloting was so close that sponsors of the bill were somewhat fearful of the outcome.

Three senators who voted for the bill were standing vote.

Continued in Page 5, Column 3.

Bill Cuts Green As City Chairman

Simmons Amendment Setting Primary Date and Rules Passes House.

ENGROSSMENT of a Fulton county local bill approved Saturday night by the legislature and made ready Monday for the signature of Governor Eugene Talmadge revealed Monday that an amendment, appended by Senator Walter A. Sims, legislator Dr. Samuel Green out of office as chairman of many city democratic committee, at least temporarily.

The bill cuts the membership of the city democratic executive committee from 22 to 13, allowing one member from each ward. It was offered first as a general bill, and later amended by the author, Representative W. B. Hartsfield, to become a local bill.

The bill was amended by the author, Representative W. B. Hartsfield, to become a local bill. It was offered first as a general bill, and later amended by the author, Representative W. B. Hartsfield, to become a local bill.

Continued in Page 4, Column 6.

Fair, Cold Weather Arrives Today; Chattahoochee Near Flood Stage

Flood warnings for the Chattahoochee river below Columbus were issued Monday as the result of rains around Atlanta and heavier downpours to the south of this city today will be fair and colder, with the thermometer dropping to 38 degrees this morning, according to Observer George W. Mindling.

The weatherman does not expect, however, that the change will bring weather likely to injure shrubbery. Several days of real warm weather have caused the shrubbery to advance rapidly, and the state of the growth gives visible confirmation to the fact that spring officially arrived at 9:43 o'clock Monday night.

DR. W. A. UPCHURCH SHOT, GUN FIGHT WITH TWO BANDITS

Prominent Physician Is Wounded 7 Times After Emptying Pistol at Robbers; Condition Serious.

Resisting the attempt of two young white men to hold him up as he sat in his parked car in front of 420 Ponce de Leon avenue, Dr. Wilbur A. Upchurch, 49, of 1274 Oxford road, N. E., prominent Atlanta physician, was shot seven times and seriously wounded in a pitched battle with the bandits late Monday night.

While waiting for his wife, who was visiting friends in the home of Dr. Frank H. Field, Atlanta dentist, Dr. Upchurch said a car drove up beside his own and two young men, both armed, approached him, demanding his cash.

"Young fellow, how about throwing them up," the doctor said the bandits, both about 23 years of age, demanded. Instead of complying, Dr. Upchurch reached for his automatic pistol and got out of the machine.

He emptied his pistol at the bandits, firing the complete clip in his gun. Both robbers returned the fire and Dr. Upchurch was shot six times in both legs and once in the abdomen. At the Georgia Baptist hospital, where he was taken, doctors said his condition was serious and he was immediately taken to the operating room.

Mrs. Upchurch told police she and her husband had been to a church party and had stopped while she visited friends before going home. Hearing the fusillade of shots, approximately 15 in all, Mrs. Upchurch ran from the house in time to see a black sedan pull up the street, while her husband stood beside his car. She expressed the belief that one of them had been hit by a bullet, and police are checking all hospitals.

Dr. Upchurch, who maintains offices at 478 Peachtree street, did not collapse under the fire and was able to walk into the house with the aid of his wife. He was taken to the hospital in a Brandon, Bond and Condon ambulance.

A description of the bandit car was furnished by Mrs. Upchurch and Dr. Upchurch described the two young men but said the attack was so sudden that he was unable to get a good look at them.

Dr. Upchurch, a member of the Grady hospital staff, has practiced his profession in Atlanta for many years and is widely known in medical circles.

Bolding Post Indorses U.S. Economy Program

GAINEVILLE, Ga., March 20.—(UP)—Unanimous indorsement of the economy program fostered by President Roosevelt, entailing reduction in disbursement to veterans receiving government compensation, has been voted by the Paul Bolding Post No. 7, American Legion, of this city. It was announced today in a meeting of 65 members of the post.

The bill punishes a misdemeanor fraud in voting, false returns of members, and allows challenging of votes. Ballots are required to be kept sealed until the election, and then destroyed only if the grand jury takes no action or no count is filed.

Senator Sims' amendment provides that no member of the city democratic executive committee be elected to the committee unless he has resided in the ward in which he is elected for a period of two years.

Dr. Green, chairman of the committee, was named from the thirteenth ward of party, to vote in the city primary, and means that there will be two general elections for each city office instead of a primary and an election.

"We will fight it in the courts," Dr. Green said. "We will not stand up for it."

Continued in Page 3, Column 2.

Fair, Cold Weather Arrives Today; Chattahoochee Near Flood Stage

Flood warnings for the Chattahoochee river below Columbus were issued Monday as the result of rains around Atlanta and heavier downpours to the south of this city today will be fair and colder, with the thermometer dropping to 38 degrees this morning, according to Observer George W. Mindling.

The weatherman does not expect, however, that the change will bring weather likely to injure shrubbery. Several days of real warm weather have caused the shrubbery to advance rapidly, and the state of the growth gives visible confirmation to the fact that spring officially arrived at 9:43 o'clock Monday night.

Continued in Page 4, Column 6.

EINSTEIN HOME SEARCHED FOR ARMS; NONE FOUND

BERLIN, March 20.—(AP)—As a result of rumors that arms and ammunition were hidden in Professor Albert Einstein's country home at Caputh, near Berlin, police and a detachment of national socialists searched the house today but found nothing.

Professor Einstein, who is now on the way to Switzerland from the United States, said just before he left New York that he would not go back to Germany so long as conditions there continue as they are.

HITLER LAUNCHES MOVE TO ABOLISH REICHSSTAG POWER

By ERIC KEYSER. BERLIN, March 20.—(UP)—The death blow to parliamentary democracy in post-war Germany was sounded in an enabling bill formulated by the cabinet tonight, on the eve of the opening tomorrow of the new fascist-controlled reichstag.

The bill proposes to strip the reichstag of its legislative powers and would deliver unlimited lawmaking powers into the hands of the cabinet. It goes so far as to abolish the necessity of a two-thirds majority in the reichstag for an amendment to the constitution, transferring amendment privileges to the cabinet.

The enabling bill would eliminate the necessity of the reichstag's passing the budget or indorsing loans. It abolishes the veto rights of the federal assembly in the reichstag and grants the chancellor the right to issue laws without the signature of the president.

The cabinet, under the enabling act, would have the authority to make and carry out foreign treaties on its own initiative, and independently of the reichstag entirely.

Meanwhile, the Munich police reported a second alleged attempt to assassinate Chancellor Adolf Hitler. Police Commissioner Himmler reported that the plot was averted just before Hitler left the "Brown House" in Munich for the airport on his way back to Berlin.

The Munich police a week ago today, March 13, announced that Count Anton Arco was arrested on discovery he headed a plot to kill Hitler. The police said Arco confessed to preparations for the chancellor's assassination.

Himmler said the authorities at Munich had received word from Switzerland that "members of the chetka," or old secret police in the czarist days in Russia, were preparing to assassinate Hitler and other Nazi leaders.

Mississippi's Sales Tax Already Past Estimate

JACKSON, Miss., March 20.—(AP)—Mississippi's nine-month-old 2 percent sales tax today topped legitimate estimates for a full 12-month year.

The legislative finance experts figured this levy would yield $2,000,000 each year.

When the state tax commission office opened this morning, figures compiled for Chairman Alf H. Stone, of the commission, showed sales tax revenue of $1,887,067.20 collected since June 1. Early mail pushed the total past the full year's estimate, with taxes of March, April and May yet to be added to the first year's revenue.

Sale of Military Secrets Charged to English Officer

LONDON, March 20.—(AP)—A tall good-looking youth, a lieutenant in the aristocratic Seaforth Highlanders, went on trial today before a court-martial composed of his brother officers on ten charges involving the sale of military secrets which might prove useful to an enemy country.

"I am not a military man," said Major H. Shapcott, the prosecutor, with a finger leveled at the defendant, Lieutenant Norman Baillie-Stewart, the son of a lieutenant colonel. "The prosecution contends that Lieutenant Baillie-Stewart sold his country for the sake of 50 pounds sterling or more."

In a two-and-a-half-hour speech, Major Shapcott outlined the government's case—a case built upon an exchange of letters between Lieutenant Baillie-Stewart and persons in Berlin and on other evidence as yet undisclosed. Two of the letters reaching the lieutenant from Berlin contained money, one of the ten 5-pound sterling notes, another four 10-pound sterling notes.

Major Shapcott stated that Lieutenant Baillie-Stewart's explanation of the correspondence was that it was a sequel to an act of intimacy with a fair-haired German girl in a Berlin park. False names which were signed to the letters, the lieutenant told Major Shapcott, were merely a precaution and not a code.

The principal accusation is that between August 1 and November 12, 1932, the lieutenant communicated to Otto Waldemar Obst, of Berlin, "information which might be useful to an enemy."

PLEDGE FILLED DESPITE FAILURE OF STATE SOLONS

Marcus McWhorter, Tag Director, Fired and Revenue Commission Issues Order Carrying Out Governor's $3 Tag Edict.

POLICE CALLED OUT TO MAINTAIN ORDER

Two Men Faint as Milling Throng Swarms Around Tag Window; Hugh Howell First.

By L. A. FARRELL. Georgia's greatest gold rush was started Monday, for in the new Atlanta store of the Governor Eugene Talmadge's $3 auto tag.

Thousands milled about the bargain basement of the state capitol where swamped clerks sought to meet the demands of a veritable deluge of motorists. Two men fainted in the jam. Women, apparently more accustomed to such bargain meles, pushed and shoved, but for the most part, got their tags.

By executive order the governor had carried out his pledge to the people despite the fact that a balky legislature had refused to permit him to do so by act.

Three dollar tags are being sold for all motor vehicles, including motor cars, trucks, buses and trailers. The new low flat rate saves owners of passenger cars from $8.25 to $27 and owners of trucks, buses and trailers from $19.75 to $112.25 as the highest priced tags, as those for big buses formerly sold for $112.25. The new tags will cost $3.00.

McWhorter Fired. Before rewriting his executive order, first issued Saturday night, Governor Talmadge notified State Auditor Tom Wisdom to remove from the payroll of the motor vehicle division the salaries of Marcus P. McWhorter, director of the bureau, who Saturday night said he would not work for the tag sale, and the chief of the revenue commission, who said he was serving with the tag sale.

Adjutant General Lindley Camp was in the governor's office in full uniform and the chief of the national guard if necessary to enforce his order. The members of the revenue commission, headed by Paul H. Doyl, held a hurried conference in Mr. Doyl's office and hastily drew an order carrying out the edict of the governor.

The Weather

FAIR AND COLDER.

Washington Forecast—Georgia: Fair and colder Tuesday; Wednesday with rising temperature.

Local Weather Report.

Highest temperature 70
Lowest temperature 55
Mean temperature 62
Normal temperature 53
Rainfall in past 12 hrs., ins.00
Def. since Jan. 1, ins.24
Total rainfall since Jan. 1, ins. 1.24

7 a.m. N.T. N.T.
Dry temperature 57.4 67.8 55.0
Wet bulb 56.5 62.0 51.2
Relative humidity 95.0 73.0 77.0

Reports of Weather Bureau Stations.

STATIONS AND STATE	Temperature	Humidity	Wind
ATLANTA, Ga.	55	70	00
Augusta, Ga.	52	60	00
Birmingham, Ala.	50	60	00
Boston, Mass.	34	40	00
Buffalo, N.Y.	42	48	00
Charlotte, N.C.	40	58	00
Chattanooga, Tenn.	48	62	00
Cincinnati, Ohio	40	50	00
Denver, Colo.	40	50	00
Galveston, Texas	54	48	00
Houston, Texas	54	48	00
Jacksonville, Fla.	66	72	14
Kansas City, Mo.	32	24	00
Memphis, Tenn.	40	50	00
Mobile, Ala.	54	48	00
Montgomery, Ala.	50	62	00
New Orleans, La.	52	58	00
Pittsburgh, Pa.	44	46	00
Portland, Me.	40	54	20
Raleigh, N.C.	56	64	00
San Francisco, Calif.	50	54	20
St. Louis, Mo.	34	24	00
Savannah, Ga.	60	62	00
Tampa, Fla.	68	82	00
Tulsa, Okla.	40	48	00
Vicksburg, Miss.	36	42	00
Washington, D.C.	42	42	00

GEORGE W. MINDLING, Meteorologist, Weather Bureau.

In Other Pages

- Editorial Page 4
- Pierre Van Passen 4
- William Brady 6
- Sports Pages 6
- Ralph McGill's "Break of the Day" 6
- Grandstand Kick 6
- Theater Programs 7
- News of Georgia 7
- Daily Cross Word Puzzle 8
- Comics 8
- "Folly Island" 8
- Society 9, 10, 11
- Radio Programs 10
- Caroline Chaffield 10
- Culbertson on Bridge 10
- Financial 12, 13, 14
- Tarzan 15
- Atlanta's Wants 15
- Chess Sections 16

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS...

When you need a few dollars to tide over an emergency and dislike the idea of asking favors of friends.

If you are a salaried man or woman, you can obtain amounts from $5 to $50 from reliable brokers advertising daily in the want ad pages of The Constitution under classification "41." Turn to them now.

Read and Use The Constitution's Want Ad Pages

"First in the Day—First to Pay"

FREIGHT RATE HIKE 8 PERSONS DEAD DENIED IN GEORGIA IN OHIO FLOODS

Commission Declines To Permit Continuance of Emergency Increase.

Application of the railroads for authority to continue for six months the emergency 10 per cent increase in freight rates granted by the interstate commerce commission for the interstate traffic Monday was denied by the Georgia public service commission for interstate traffic.

The rates expire by limitation on March 31, having been placed in effect on January 4, 1932, by the interstate commerce commission, the Georgia commission following suit.

In a statement explaining the action of the commission on the matter, the commission said that while the need of maintaining the railroad system is believed that what is needed is a reduction and not an increase in order to obtain the business.

Mr. Perry's statement was as follows:

On December 28, 1931, the commission approved an application of the Georgia carriers to make effective the so-called emergency rates which had previously been approved by the interstate commerce commission, effective January 4, 1932. The rates expire by limitation March 31 of this year. Some months ago the carriers went to the interstate commerce commission and asked for authority to continue said rates and, likewise, filed an application with the Georgia commission for similar authority. A hearing was had on the application filed with the interstate commerce commission, with which we are quite familiar, showing that the railroads throughout the country, in many instances, were not actually earning sufficient revenue to pay fixed charges and that while said emergency rates were designed to preserve the financial structure of the railroad system throughout the United States and, at the same time, to make a relief expedition of 80 men with surfboats and skiffs. This unit will be rushed into the flooded area on flat cars.

The Buffalo coast guard was authorized from Washington to organize a relief expedition of 80 men with surfboats and skiffs. This unit will be rushed into the flooded area on flat cars.

The largest city affected in the area was Cincinnati, where the towns of Newport and Covington, Ky., just across the Ohio river, in Newport alone 2,000 families were driven to higher ground. Parts of residential Cincinnati were isolated and transportation was hampered.

Many Thousands Driven From Lowland Homes as Menace Spreads.

By the Associated Press.

Destructive flood waters lashed through the Ohio river basin Monday and their menace spread toward the Mississippi.

At least eight persons had met death along the murky course of the Ohio and the climbing waves threatened many thousands from lowland homes.

The weather bureau at Washington predicted flood stages at Cairo, Ill., where the Ohio flows into the Father of Waters, by Saturday; at Memphis by March 29 and at Helena, Ark., by March 31.

Even further south, torrential rains sent most Alabama streams surging out of their banks and warnings were issued to residents along four of them—the Tombigbee, Warrior, Cahaba and the Alabama.

With all these reports in hand, four national organizations immediately set out to rush relief into the hard-pressed Ohio valley area. They will join state and local agencies which were already heroically functioning.

The National Red Cross warned 65 chapters along the Ohio between Wheeling, W. V., and Cairo, Ill.—more than a 600-mile stretch along the Ohio—to be alert for emergencies. S. C. en disaster workers of the national staff were sent into the area.

The Buffalo coast guard was authorized from Washington to organize a relief expedition of 80 men with surfboats and skiffs. This unit will be rushed into the flooded area on flat cars.

The navy department ordered two amphibian planes and eight pilots to be made available for flood relief work in the valley and the navy reserve personnel in the flood area was requested to render all possible assistance.

Well over a score of cities and towns along the Ohio, including the area between Steubenville, Ohio, and Evansville, Ind., were suffering from flood waters in various degrees. The national guard was assisting other relief agencies in Ohio and Kentucky.

The largest city affected in the area was Cincinnati, where the towns of Newport and Covington, Ky., just across the Ohio river, in Newport alone 2,000 families were driven to higher ground. Parts of residential Cincinnati were isolated and transportation was hampered.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—Senate and house conferees today agreed the government could lend up to $5,000,000 to earthquake-shaken areas in California to repair the damage recently caused there.

rates, have added the emergency charge which really had the effect of defeating the very purpose of the reduced rates. We have reached a point where the railroad transportation rates must be fixed within the bounds of reason for transportation service without any consideration of additional emergency or other extra forms of transportation cost which serves to only confuse and agitate the public mind, and, in any judgment, results in no benefit whatsoever to the railroads.

JAMES A. PERRY.

RATS
ROACHES
BEDBUGS
ANTS
TERMITES
And All Vermin

Exterminating

Get rid of those destructive and unsanitary pests about your premises. We do it by scientific, guaranteed methods, and the cost is moderate.

FUMIGATING houses, buildings, apartments is our specialty. And for furniture, rugs, clothing and other removable articles we maintain a fumigating vault at our plant.

CREATORS OF SANITATION
ORKIN
EXTERMINATING COMPANY INC.

Phone
WALNUT
1050

LIBERAL RATE FOR 1929—
A PREFERRED RATE FOR 1933

5% INTEREST

IN 1929 the Morris Plan of Industrial Banking paid five per cent interest to its thrift members in this community... the same rate it had paid for a good many years without change or without interruption... today, in 1933, that 5% rate is still being paid, with regularity, with certainty... and that is the record that has earned the confidence with which this institution is held.

Looking at it another way, that five per cent figures a good deal higher in these times when the dollar is buying so much more than the dollar of three years ago... of food, for example, the dollar today will buy 60 per cent more than the dollar of 1929.

THE MORRIS PLAN CO.

OF GEORGIA

Established 1911

SAVINGS

66 Pryor St., N. E.

LOANS

Tag-Hungry Motorists Throng State Capitol on $3 'Bargain Day'

AUTO TAG BUYERS JAM CAPITOL HILL

Continued from First Page.

injunction was made before him. Judge Moore left for his home at 6 o'clock and announced that he would not sign any order at home if a petition was filed before him. He also said that if a petition is filed he will not issue a temporary order but will set the entire matter for an early hearing and the original action he will take will be permanent.

The other superior court judges, who are assigned to other duties for the current term, said that if any application for an injunction appeared before them they would direct the applicant to Judge Moore.

Barnett is Silent.

Captain J. W. Barnett, chairman of the highway commission, would make no comment on the Talmadge order.

The funds derived from the sale of tags are allocated to the highway department for maintenance, after $80,000 is taken for operation of the tag department. Last year collections of the department totaled slightly less than $4,000,000. This year they will be slightly over $4,000,000, as there are approximately 375,000 automobiles, trucks, buses and trailers in the state.

The highway department always has insisted that it needs more than $1,500,000 a year for maintenance work. What the department would do with such a great increase in maintenance revenue, Captain Barnett would not say.

The governor issued the following statement in connection with his order:

"I have issued an executive order on the $3 tag price to carry out my campaign pledge to the people of the state," he said, "and if I can't enforce an executive order I might as well resign as governor of Georgia."

"However, I have no intention of resigning."

"The people of Georgia pay enough taxes for the use of their automobiles when they pay 7 cents tax on every gallon of gasoline they buy."

"The sale of automobile tags at $3 will leave $3,500,000 in the pockets of the people of this state, and they need that $3,500,000 right now."

"I think it is better to provide money for the people in this way than to borrow it from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation."

Orders Issued.

The order of the governor and that of the revenue commission follows:

Whereas, his excellency, Governor Eugene Talmadge, as governor of Georgia, did by authority vested in him by Section 162 of the constitution of Georgia, suspend the collection of the motor vehicle tag tax in Georgia except $3 for all license tags on cars, trucks, buses and trailers, and whereas his excellency, the governor, has directed this commission to comply with said order, and whereas his excellency has further issued an executive order suspending the members of the commission and their securities on their respective bonds, from any and all personal liability for failure to collect in excess of $3 on any license tag for any automobile, truck, bus and trailer, a copy of which order is as follows:

Executive Order.

The bonds required by law to be given by the three members of the state revenue commission are suspended as to the collection of the motor vehicle tag tax as follows:

When the members of the commission collect $3 and personally to count the amount to the state, they personally nor their bondsmen are responsible for the remaining amount now assessed by law as to the price of automobile, truck and bus and trailer tags.

The order previously issued suspending the collection of motor vehicle tag tax, except the $3 price, all motor vehicles, and trailers.

This order is effective until the next regular meeting of the general assembly of Georgia.

Given under my hand and seal this 20th day of March, 1933.

EUGENE TALMADGE, Governor.

By the Governor:

F. M. LINDEN, Sec'y, Executive Dept.

Be it therefore resolved by the state revenue commission that the members of the commission be and they are hereby authorized and directed to instruct the director of the motor vehicle division and his employees to proceed with the sale and delivery of all license tags for all classes of motor vehicles and trailers upon payment of the $3 as provided by the executive order.

McWhorter Makes Statement.

Mr. McWhorter, dismissed as head of the division, issued the following statement Monday afternoon:

"I regret more than I can express that my statement made by me last Saturday night, or at any time, has been reported or construed to be in defiance of the executive order of his excellency, Governor Eugene Talmadge."

"I am more than pleased to state that the official order served on the commission this morning by the members of the commission and their securities, fully clarified any situation which might arise. I have no advised the commission that the executive order does clarify the situation and the commission has passed a resolution directing me as director of the motor vehicle division of the revenue department to carry out the provisions of the executive order and this I am pleased to do."

"I want to say further that if any statement made by me could in any sense be construed as a defiance of the executive order that it was my own, and I regret very much that anyone could so interpret it."

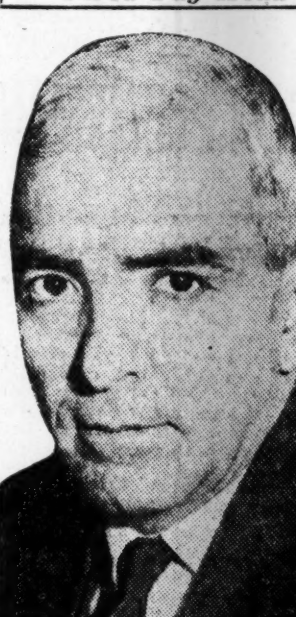

"If any construction placed upon my statement might place it in the light of being a defiant statement or in any way a reflection upon the authority of his excellency, the governor, I hereby fully retract the same."

Governor Talmadge has always been my friend and I certainly would do nothing to keep him from doing the things he desires to do for the best interests of the people of Georgia."

Thousands of tag-hungry motorists thronged the state capitol Monday when Governor Talmadge's cut-rate license tags went on sale at $3 each. In the above pictures are shown some of the motorists as they waited for places at the counters of the motor tag division.—Staff photos by Kenneth Rogers.

Fired Tag Head

MARCUS McWHORTER.

ZANGARA, DEFEYING CAPITALISTS, DIES

Continued from First Page.

shouts against "the capitalists" but a moment his tone changed to even calmer.

"Goodbye! Adios to all the world! Goodbye!" he said softly. Then he turned back, his feet not quite touching the floor, and relaxed to await the shock.

At a signal from a guard, indicating the last electrode had been fastened, Sheriff Dan Hardie, of Duval county (Miami), threw the switch at 9:15 o'clock.

Body Stiffens.

Zangara's body stiffened. He jerked his head upward. His hands clenched the chair.

The motor hummed three minutes and the current was turned off. The body relaxed and then slumped forward.

Guards released the straps. The physician, well-nourished and in good examination and pronounced death at 9:27 o'clock.

Silence of the sort that only the presence of death causes held away in the room while the examination was under way. Heavy rain beat a tattoo on the flat-top roof.

The autopsy was performed by Dr. Ralph N. Greene, former chief of staff at the state hospital for the insane; Dr. R. R. Killinger, medical officer of Duval county; and Dr. J. J. Kindred, of New York.

Their report read:

"Having completed an autopsy, we find his brain perfectly normal on gross examination."

"A microscopic examination will be made later."

"Zangara had a chronically diseased gall-bladder which had adhesions and was therefore a victim of chronic inflammation. He was, however, a healthy, well-nourished individual."

"Zangara's conduct during his last moments in the execution chamber indicated clearly he had a proper understanding of his surroundings and realized fully the nature of the punishment about to be meted out to him as evidenced by his verbal expressions and demeanor."

"In our opinion, this man was regarded as having been sane and also regarded medically as criminally responsible for the crime for which he was executed."

Commissioner Mayo visited the death cell just before the execution and questioned Zangara regarding any alliance with organized anarchists or gangs.

"No," replied the assassin. "I have no friends. It was a crime of my own."

Not Regretful of Killing.

He expressed no regret over killing Mayor Cermak, nor did he regret shooting Mrs. Joe H. Gill of Miami, another of the five people wounded in the attempt on the president's life.

"She had no business getting in way of bullet," the condemned man said.

Mayo asked if he would try to kill

Portuguese Approve New Constitution

LISBON, March 20.—(AP)—A new constitution for Portugal, providing for the direct election of the president, was approved in a plebiscite yesterday, returns announced today.

About 60 per cent of the eligible voters cast favorable ballots, while opposition votes amounted to less than 5 per cent. This was the first election in Portugal in seven years, with women exercising the franchise for the first time.

President Roosevelt if he was released and Zangara replied that he would make the attempt at once.

After the execution, Mayo said the slayer had requested that cameramen be permitted to take photographs of the electrocution. The refusal apparently was the worst disappointment Zangara experienced since his arrest, Mayo said.

The commissioner asked the prisoner if he wanted a minister or priest. Throwing his hands into the air, Zangara shouted: "No! I no want minister. There no God. It's all believe."

At the insistence of Mayo and Chapman, Rev. L. O. Sheffield, the prison chaplain, came to the death cell and prayed.

"What's your business?" demanded Zangara of the minister.

Told that Sheffield is a minister, the Italian shouted: "Get out of here! Get out of here! I no want minister."

Rev. Mr. Sheffield began reading Scripture but Zangara interrupted him with more shouting. Finally, however, he grew quieter and listened to the reading.

But he did not remain quiet for long. Before the minister had finished, Zangara broke into another uproar that continued until guards led him to the execution chamber, which was guarded by militiamen with machine guns on the roof.

Thus far, no decision has been reached regarding disposition of Zangara's body. Several medical schools have requested it for scientific research.

Thousands witnessed the attempt to assassinate President Roosevelt in Bay Front park in Miami. He had just returned from a fishing cruise.

Mayo's earnest standing near the Roosevelt automobile, was struck by one bullet. Others wounded besides him and Mrs. Gill were William Sinnott of New York; Miss Margaret Krus, of Newark, N. J.; and Russell Caldwell, of Coconut Grove, Fla.

Mayor Cermak died March 6 and Zangara was indicted for murder the same day.

On March 9 he pleaded guilty with a show of defiance and the next day he was sentenced to death.

Nash Named To Fill Ill. Democratic Post

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., March 20.—(AP)—Patrick A. Nash, of Chicago, was today elected democratic national committeeman for the state by the state central committee of the party. He was unopposed for the post in which he succeeds the late Mayor Anton J. Cermak, of Chicago.

Eleven Medicinal Ingredients IN LUDEX'S give Quickest Cough Relief

LUDEX'S
Menthol Cough Drops

Certain Relief For Athlete's Foot

This formula for skin diseases is a tanning the most skeptical in the marvelous way it heals severe cases of Athlete's Foot, Ringworm, Eczema, Tetter, Itch and other parasitic skin troubles. The minute it touches the sore spot, you feel a cooling, soothing sensation; in a few days you marvel at how your skin has healed. If you suffer with skin diseases of any kind, especially Athlete's Foot, get from any drug store a 60c box of Tetterine, and get relief or get your money back.—(adv.)

HITLER LAUNCHES MOVE TO ABOLISH REICHSTAG POWER

Continued from First Page.

with an address. The chancellor will respond.

The new national government is availing itself of all modern instruments of propaganda in a manner never dreamed of by its predecessors. The whole nation will be able to participate in tomorrow's festivities at least in spirit.

Joseph Goebbels, the new minister of propaganda, has arranged concerts, military and quasi-military parades, pageants, flag unfurlings, torch light marches, school exercises and bonfires to impress upon each and every citizen that a new era in German history is beginning.

President Von Hindenburg—described as looking happier, healthier and more alert than ever by persons who saw him today at a farewell luncheon for Frederic M. Sackett, the retiring United States ambassador—issued a proclamation paying tribute to the new reichstag.

The president asserted that the new legislature "like none of its predecessors since the end of the World War pledges fidelity to a state that is national and determined for defense." He expressed the opinion that the sacrifices of the war have not been in vain.

Unusual precautions have been taken to insure members of the government against attack of any kind. Any airplane flying over Potsdam during the exercises will be shot down.

Russell Asks Relief From Loan Provision

WASHINGTON, March 20.—The department of agriculture was urged today by Senator Richard B. Russell Jr., of Georgia, to exempt Georgia corn growers from the provisions of the crop loan administration regulations requiring a 30 per cent acreage reduction as a condition to securing such loans.

In an extended conference with Dr. C. W. Warburton in charge of the crop loan fund Senator Russell pointed out that corn is a feed crop in Georgia and the amount produced by farmers of the state does not figure materially in marketing operations, little comparatively being grown for sale.

The crop loan chief confessed that the problem raised by the Georgia senator was a new one and promised to give it full consideration before announcing a final decision.

Leas' Writ Hearing Continued to April 3

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., March 20.—(AP)—Judge John T. Cunningham late today continued the habeas corpus hearing of Colonel Luke Lea and Luke Lea Jr. and allowed them bail of $15,000 each. The date for the hearing was set tentatively for April 3.

Good Dental Work Is An Investment Never Before Such Dental Values

10-Day Special
PORCELAIN CROWN $4 EACH
BRIDGE WORK $4 / TOOTH
ALLOY FILLINGS $1

DR. ROY HUNTER, ASSOCIATED
DR. C. A. CONSTANTINE
191 Peachtree St., Cor. Decatur

What makes the Waldorf? Its size?...its prestige?...its perfect appointments?...its famous cuisine? Yes, but more important is that amazing faculty for catering to the individual...to you...accomplished by the remarkable service establishment.

THE WALDORF-ASTORIA
PARK AVENUE - 49TH TO 50TH STS - NEW YORK

JONQUIL JUBILEE

THE JONQUIL JUBILEE offers a trade-in-allowance of $13.15 for your old range on the purchase of a new 1933 model Roper Gas Range, on unusually convenient terms. Point for point—both as to beauty and efficiency—this new range surpasses every other range of any sort at all comparable in price.

Just exactly the heat you want, instantly available and automatically controlled. "Fresh Air Cooking" with no wasted heat, in the INSULATED-Ventilated Oven. Durable insured by acid resisting surfaces, porcelain enamel oven linings and cast iron construction. Economical Operation—because Gas is by far the cheapest fuel for automatic cooking.

Compare the beauty—the efficiency—and then take advantage of the JONQUIL JUBILEE $13.15 trade-in-allowance to modernize your kitchen with a new up-to-date Gas Range. Assure for yourself the leisure hours it will bring. Come in TODAY, or phone for one of our representatives to call on you.

$13.15 for YOUR OLD RANGE on the purchase of a new automatic heat control Gas Range.

ATLANTA GAS LIGHT CO.

By W. H. White VICE PRESIDENT AND GENERAL MANAGER
WEST END EAST POINT RICH'S DECATUR MARIETTA

in prints! checks! plaids!—to match NEW spring wash frocks! 59c

HUGO'S THIRD FLOOR

$400,000,000 GOLD RETURNS TO BANKS

Officials Gratified by Response to Roosevelt's Anti-Hoarding Order.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—A golden flood into the federal reserve banks has returned well above $400,000,000 in two weeks since President Roosevelt decreed hoarding was injuring the nation.

Officials declined today to name the exact amount returned.

Federal reserve banks ordered to send the names of all persons who withdrew gold before the bank holiday and had not returned it by the close of business Friday or yesterday had the time limited extended to March 27.

This will give any hoarders who are away from home opportunity to return and empty their safety deposit boxes of the forbidden money and thus possibly escape any penalty that may be provided under treasury regulations defining hoarding.

The regulations are being prepared by the treasury under provisions of the emergency bank law and will define hoarding and set penalties for it.

While officials declined to discuss the new regulations, they intimated no leniency would be shown persons proved to be guilty of hoarding and refusing to return the gold to the banks.

Gray Hair

Best Remedy is Made At Home

To halt pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any drugist can put this up for you or mix it at home at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. It imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair and makes it soft and glossy. Barbo will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—(adv.)

"B.C." Relieves Periodical Pains In Three Minutes

It is so unnecessary to suffer month after month from inorganic pains, because "B. C." will bring soothing relief in three minutes. "B. C." is prepared by a registered pharmacist, compounded on a different principle from most relieving agencies in that it contains several ingredients, used by many physicians, so blended and proportioned as to accomplish in a few minutes what we believe no one drug formula can do in so short a time. "B. C." should also be used for the relief of common colds, headaches and neuralgia, muscular aches and pains, reducing fever and for quieting a distressed nervous system without opiates, narcotics or such habit forming drugs. Get "B. C." in 10c and 25c packages, wherever drugs are sold.—(adv.)

Resinol Helped My Skin in 3 Days

"When I decided to try Resinol Soap and Ointment, my complexion was a sight from pimples and blackheads. I had a horrid, muddy looking skin and when I used powder it looked even worse. After three days use of the Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap, I could see an improvement. Now all my friends tell me how well my skin looks."—(Signed)—Mrs. M. N. St. Louis, Mo.

FOR FREE TRIAL size package of Ointment and Soap with your copy of our new booklet on Skin Treatment, write to Resinol, Department C, Baltimore, Md.

via the Santa Fe California and Arizona

ONE WAY COACH FARE FROM CHICAGO also $36.50 from St. Louis.

The SANTA FE now provides comforts never before afforded our chair car patrons. Ladies' lounge and smoking room. Also wash-room for men.

● 100 pounds free baggage allowance—and liberal stop-overs.

● Fred Harvey lunch rooms and dining rooms save you money.

Also $50 from Chicago $47 from St. Louis

Good in Tourist Sleeper plus berth fare

SIMILAR FARES EASTBOUND

Write Coupon Santa Fe System Lines 330 Rhodes-Haverty Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. Send booklet concerning coach and tourist fares to California and Arizona.

Talmadges Greet Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Here

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the late president, with Governor and Mrs. Eugene Talmadge, of Georgia, at the luncheon given in Mrs. Wilson's honor Monday at the Capital City Club by members of the Women's Democratic Club of Fulton county. Staff photo by George Cornett. Story in Page Nine.

SNELL DENOUNCES FARM AID CHANGES

Bill Is Shorn of Provision for Civil Service Requirements.

By WILLIAM L. BEALE JR.

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—The administration farm-aid plan started a perilous congressional journey today, shorn abruptly of the bi-party co-operation that has favored President Roosevelt's previous legislative recommendations.

The bill itself came from the house agricultural committee little different from the form requested by the president. But one of the changes eliminated a requirement that employees meet civil service requirements.

"The rawest piece of definite partisan action ever presented to the house," was the prompt charge of Snell, the republican leader, who supported the banking and economy bills and interposed no strenuous opposition to the beer bill.

He also termed the rule for the bill's consideration—limiting debate to four hours and prohibition amendments—the "most drastic I've ever known brought into the house for the consideration of important general legislation."

House Action Speeded. Snell's statement climaxed a quick succession of actions designed to get the farm bill passed and over to the senate by Wednesday night at the latest.

Shortly after the house convened, the bill was introduced by Representative Fulmer, of South Carolina, ranking democrat on the agriculture committee, instead of by the committee chairman—Jones of Texas—as is customary.

Then the committee met behind closed doors. Almost immediately it was visited by Representatives Sabath, of Illinois, and Fuller, of Arkansas, members of the democratic patronage committee.

Sabath went into the committee room. Fuller frankly reported to newspapermen outside that removal of the civil service requirement was sought.

When the committee broke up shortly afterwards, Jones announced approval of the bill but said there was no record vote. He handed newspapermen a typewritten statement that said in part:

"I am not in accord with some of the provisions of the proposed measure. However, in view of existing conditions, I expect to support the president in his request for the emergency authority provided in the bill."

Limitation Discarded. Asked whether the civil service limitation on employees under the act had been removed, Jones replied:

"Yes. The committee felt that in view of the emergency nature of the act, civil service requirements would involve too much delay."

The rules committee meanwhile had written a resolution for consideration of the farm bill on the house floor that would protect it against amendments.

After these two meetings, republicans of both the rules and agriculture committees gathered in Snell's office to discuss the bill. Talking to newspapermen later, the New Yorker declared:

"I was much surprised when they took the civil service requirement out and allowed the appointment of deserving democrats to thousands and thousands of positions all over the country. I notice, too, that they raised the salary limit from $7,500 to $10,000."

"It'll be more than spoils before they get through. It's the rawest piece of definite partisan action ever presented to the house, but they've got the votes."

"A Rainbow Scheme"—Snell. As for the bill itself, which is intended to increase farm prices by offering farmers an incentive to slash production, Snell termed it "a rainbow scheme."

"This is an awfully radical piece of legislation," he said. "It is evident that they are going to put it through by force and the devil take the consequences."

"I don't see how the democratic majority can swallow that rule. The only way is suggested by newspaper reports that tax powers that be keep on their desks every morning the individual votes of party members."

"I cannot see but that this bill will take a lot of money out of the treasury. It provides that the treasury must supply all the money needed by the secretary of agriculture. And apparently any deal with a farmer made by any one of the various agents running around the country is binding."

Snell conceded the bill would get some republican votes and did not question its ultimate passage by the house.

Jones, in his statement, reported that a farm mortgage program was being worked out.

Other Major Problems. "Personally," the Texan said, "I feel that the refinancing of farm mortgages, the establishment of credit facilities, the adjustment of freight rates which are discriminatory against agriculture and the adjustment of trade barriers in the interest of markets are the most important steps on the farm program."

"If these steps are taken, I feel that other action would be largely unnecessary."

The bill approved by the agriculture committee still covers nine com-

SENATE AFFIXES FINAL APPROVAL TO 3.2 BEER BILL

Continued from First Page.

measure last Thursday when it provided for 3.05 per cent alcohol, switched today and voted against the revised measure. They were Senators Black, democrat, Alabama; Norris, republican, Nebraska, and Fletcher, democrat, Florida.

Bankhead Opposes Bill.

Senator Bankhead, democrat, Alabama, who voted for the 3.05 per cent bill, was paired against the measure today.

Ten republicans combined with 33 democrats, however, to adopt the conference report, with 19 democrats and 17 republicans opposed.

Senator Erickson, new democratic member from Montana, who was sworn in today, cast his first vote for the bill.

The galleries were crowded for the brief debate which preceded the vote. Borah took the floor as soon as Chairman Harrison, of the finance committee, submitted the conference report.

Pointing to the provision of the bill prohibiting importation of the beverages into dry states, the Idahoan asked:

"Upon what possible theory can you exclude it from interstate commerce except on the theory it is intoxicating?"

He contended that a product can only be excluded from interstate commerce if it is "deleterious" or "dangerous," and added:

"The only foundation on which this provision rests is that the beer is in some way harmful to society."

Court Decisions Cited. Borah and other constitutional lawyers engaged in a complicated constitutional debate in which the Idahoan cited a number of supreme court decisions to support his contention.

Senator Barkley, democrat, Kentucky, and Wagner, democrat, New York, led in opposing Borah's view.

Borah said he had offered the amendment forbidding sale of the beer and wine to children because whether or not 3.2 per cent beverages were intoxicating for adults, he held the evidence was overwhelming that it was intoxicating for children.

Representative Sabath, democrat, Illinois, said tonight he would introduce a joint resolution tomorrow requesting the president to pardon all individuals who have been convicted and are now serving jail sentences for selling or manufacturing beer.

He said under his resolution the attorney-general would be instructed to nolle prosequi all indictments against beer manufacturers or sellers.

"I do not believe," he said, "that it is just for us to continue prosecuting people who have been indicted or to insist that people remain in jail for manufacturing or selling beer when congress has declared that beer is non-intoxicating and the manufacture and sale of it does not violate the Volstead act."

Two somewhat similar bills have been introduced in the house.

In addition, Representative Dirksen, republican, Illinois, has requested the attorney-general to lift all injunctions against places closed for selling beer.

DRY LEADERS APPEAL FOR BEER MEASURE VETO

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(AP)—In an eleven-hour attempt to prevent the legalization of 3.2 per cent beer, the National Conference of Organizations Supporting the Eighteenth Amendment tonight urged President Roosevelt to veto the measure.

It made public a letter sent to the chief executive contending he could not sign the bill, expected to reach the White House tomorrow, without violating the constitution.

The communication was signed by F. Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America, and Edward B. Dunford, its attorney; Ella A. Bone, president of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union; Clarence True Wilson, general secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church; Bishop James Cannon Jr., chairman of the board of temperance and social service of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and Eugene L. Crawford, the general secretary; William Sheafe Chase, general superintendent of the International Reform Federation, and Edwin C. Dinwiddie, superintendent of the National Temperance Bureau.

MADAM WAYNE PROFESSIONAL PALMIST

Read the future of all the others and guarantee to do what others have failed to do. Tell you anything and everything you wish to know without asking any questions. Satisfactions guaranteed or money refunded. Hours from 8:30 A. M. to 8:30 P. M. Daily and Sunday.

HE 7169 1035 Marietta, N. W.

LOOK FOR SIGN On James Ward or Marietta Car Line Just Above Plaza Factory

COCA-COLA GROUPS PLAN UNIFICATION

Exchange of Bottling Stock for Parent Company Shares Pending.

Directors of the Coca-Cola Company Monday heard presented a pending deal in which owners of one of the oldest of the Coca-Cola parent bottlers, the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, with offices in the Norris building, Atlanta, would exchange their stock for stock in the Coca-Cola Company.

R. E. Woodruff, president of the Coca-Cola Company, announced the pending plan. Charles V. Rainwater, secretary and treasurer of the bottling company, joined him in describing the deal as "a progressive step in the unification of Coca-Cola interests," and one that should prove beneficial both to stockholders of both companies involved and all Coca-Cola bottlers.

The Coca-Cola Bottling Company controls bottling rights in eight southern states under the active management of Mr. Rainwater. Names of the states were not included in the announcement. It was said, however, that the bottling company would continue to be run as a separate unit under separate management with an active board of directors. No change in management is contemplated at present.

"It is felt that the acquisition of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company will prove a constructive step," Mr. Woodruff told the directors, "by effecting a closer union of the different branches of the business and will bring into the ownership of this company new stockholders who have had for many years a deep interest in the development of Coca-Cola."

T. Carter Lupton, of Chattanooga, Tenn., was added to the board of directors of the Coca-Cola Company. Mr. Lupton, who is a director of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company, is also a director of the Coca-Cola Company.

The complete list of directors follows: W. C. Bradley, Columbus, Ga.; J. Woodruff, Atlanta.

For WOMEN'S PAINS

Why wait for slow-dissolving tablets to act?

Why prolong your discomfort waiting for solid pain remedies to dissolve in your stomach? When you take Capudine for periodic pain, rheumatic or neuralgic pain, headaches, or aches due to colds, you needn't wait for relief because Capudine is liquid and its ingredients are already dissolved. Your system absorbs them at once. Soothing relief follows immediately.

Use Liquid CAPUDINE

...It's already dissolved!

FRENCH WILL HEAR MUSSOLINI'S PLAN

Continued from First Page.

operation in trade and colonial interests outside of Europe.

"We are not proceeding with an idea of two or three agreeing and imposing agreement on others," Mr. MacDonald said.

"We are not overlooking the United States by any means. . . . The American government will be kept fully informed concerning the negotiations."

When he arrived here Saturday for his conversations with Premier Mussolini, which were designed to quiet the fears of Europe, the British prime minister remarked that the European situation was dangerous. He repeated that assertion today but added that "along with the dangers there also exist great opportunities to do something effective to remove them."

"The proposition we have in mind," he continued, "is to create conditions of real peace which will rise from the satisfaction of various nations who are in position to disturb it. We are not out for an imposed peace but for an agreed peace."

"We have got to save Europe and the world and have got to fit our nationalistic ideas into the whole scheme of which we are a part. We all recognize the tremendous urgency of getting a better atmosphere into the international situation."

Il Giornale D'Italia, one of the important Italian newspapers, predicted that the Mussolini plan would bring about "a new regime in international relations."

FRENCH DELAY DECISIONS UNTIL HEARING MACDONALD

PARIS, March 20.—(AP)—The cabinet debated Premier Mussolini's new peace plan tonight at a three-hour session during which it was decided to defer decisions until tomorrow, when B. Campbell, Atlanta; Charles H. Candler, Atlanta; W. C. D'Arcy, St. Louis; Samuel C. Dobbs, Atlanta; T. E. Glenn, Atlanta; Charles Hayden, New York; Harold Hirsch, Atlanta; Lindsey Hopkins, Atlanta; J. P. Illges, Columbus, Ga.; T. Carter Lupton, Chattanooga; Winship Nunnally, Atlanta; Chapman J. Root, Terre Haute, Ind.; E. W. Stetson, New York; D. A. Turner, Columbus, Ga.; Walter C. Teagle, New York; C. A. Wickersham, Atlanta; Ernest Woodruff, Maids, Va., and R. W. Woodruff, Atlanta.

Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who is en route to Paris from Rome, will reveal full details of the proposal to Premier Edouard Daladier and Foreign Minister Joseph Paul Boncour.

The general outlines of the plan are known, but full details and implications await the arrival of Mr. MacDonald in the morning.

Before the cabinet meeting it was indicated that the French would seek to obtain modifications of the Mussolini plan.

The government spokesman asserted that France's relations with Poland and the Little Entente made it necessary that the government protect the interests of the smaller powers. He did not wish to have the four great powers seem to be dictating the law to Europe.

TODAY IS THE FIRST DAY OF SPRING

AND Men who know what's new and smart are wearing

WALES STRIPES WALES PLAIDS

from HART SCHAFFNER & MARX

STYLE leaders the world over have put the stamp of their approval on Wales Stripes and Plaids. Look about you in Atlanta today and you'll see the best-dressed men are wearing them.

FRONT ROW WORSTEDS . . . $35

FOUR STAR WORSTEDS . . . $25

Tailored in America of fabrics woven from American-grown wools

ZACHRY

87 PEACHTREE ST., N. E.

Luckies Please!

St. Moritz, Switzerland, where people gather to watch the cream of the winter sports.

They taste right... they're mild... they have character!

Only the finest of ripe, tender golden-brown leaves—the "Cream of the Crop"—are purchased for Luckies. Patiently we let these choice tobaccos age and ripen—that's Character. Then—for true mel-low-mildness—these smooth, delicious tobaccos are "Toasted"—given that extra benefit so necessary for your smoking pleasure. For these two reasons—Character and Mildness—"Luckies Please!"

because "It's toasted"

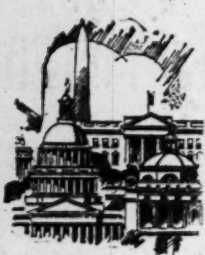

Copyright, 1933, The American Tobacco Company.

WHIGHAM MAN SHOT IN HUNTING ACCIDENT

BAINBRIDGE, Ga., March 20.—Melvin Yancey, 22, of Whigham, Ga., lies near death in a local hospital tonight from a shotgun wound in the abdomen accidentally self-inflicted as he was standing on his porch preparatory to shooting a rabbit that dogs were chasing. Doctors give him only a slight chance of recovering. Yancey told attendants he was twirling the gun with the butt resting on the porch when it slipped down steps and discharged. He is married.

Things are happening in WASHINGTON

America's Center of National Authority Has Become The World's Economic Capital . . . Shifting Political Scenes Attract Business Men as Well as Hordes of Sightseers . . . When You Come, Make Reservations at the Institution Where Government Personages Reside and Great Events Occur.

Single rooms from $4
Double rooms from $6

THE Mayflower
WASHINGTON
R. L. Pollio, Manager

Connecticut Avenue at L Street

$250.00 CASH PRIZES Jig-Saw Contest

Here's the easiest money you ever won. Read the rules. You have as good a chance to win as anyone. Even if you don't want to enter it in the contest you will have lots of fun working this beautiful puzzle. 176 pieces on heavy cardboard.

Get Yours Today at The Constitution, First Floor—or Any Newsstand in the City.

RULES OF CONTEST

1st Prize	$100.00
2nd Prize	50.00
3rd Prize	25.00
4th Prize	15.00
5th Prize	10.00
6th Prize	7.50
7th Prize	5.00
8th Prize	2.50
Next 10 Prizes	1.50
Next 20 Prizes	1.00
38 Prizes	$250.00

This contest is open to everyone except employees of The Constitution and their families. The contest closes promptly at midnight, April 30th, 1933. In case of tie equal prizes will be awarded to all tying contestants.

All that is necessary is to get one of these jig-saw puzzles, put all pieces in their proper place, and send it to the Jig-Saw Department of The Constitution. Puzzles must be mounted on some kind of cardboard or stiff paper.

Prizes will be awarded to those 38 contestants who in the opinion of the judges send in the puzzle completed in the neatest, most correct, novel and unique manner. All entries must be addressed to Jig-Saw Department of The Constitution.

You may enter either the Free Paper Puzzle or the 3-colored heavy cardboard jig-saw—both will be judged equally. However, you will find that the board jig-saw will be much easier to handle and will save time and effort. Contestants may submit as many answers as they wish. However, no contestant is eligible for more than one prize. Be sure your name and address are on solution.

USE THIS COUPON FOR FREE PAPER PUZZLE

Jig-Saw Department,
Atlanta Constitution,
Atlanta, Ga.

Please send me absolutely free one of the $250.00 prize contest jig-saw puzzles on paper.

NAME

ADDRESS

ENCLOSE 3c FOR RETURN POSTAGE

USE THIS COUPON FOR 25c 3-COLOR CARDBOARD PUZZLE

Jig-Saw Department,
Atlanta Constitution,
Atlanta, Ga.

Enclose please find 25 cents either in stamps or money, for which please send me one of your $250.00 jig-saw contest puzzles. I understand this is a 176-piece jig-saw printed in 3 colors on heavy cardboard.

NAME

ADDRESS

ENCLOSE 5c FOR RETURN POSTAGE

MRS. WILSON VISITS MISS MARTHA BERRY

Wife of Ex-President Is Honored at Famed Mountain Schools.

By TRACY BYERS.
MOUNT BERRY, March 20.—Welcome by the thousand students and faculty members of Berry Schools, Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, widow of the war-time president, was the guest this afternoon and tonight of Martha Berry, founder and director.

"It is a privilege to see with my own eyes the tremendous work done by Martha Berry," said Mrs. Wilson. "I am younger, I can think of no greater joy I would have than to come here to the red clay hills of Georgia and be a part of this school."

In introducing Mrs. Wilson, Miss Berry told of the early days of the Berry Schools and of the great help and inspiration of President Wilson.

"The last time I saw Mr. Wilson he told me that if his health permitted he would come to see us at Berry. He never lived to see us, but today we are happy to welcome his great and gracious companion."

Musical numbers by the Berry College Girls' quartet and a harp solo by Marie Miller, world-famous concert harpist, visiting at the schools, were included in the program, following which Mrs. Wilson was the guest at tea of Martha Berry at her colonial home and birthplace, Oakhill.

Other guests included President G. Leland Green, of Berry College, and Mrs. Green, Dr. S. H. Cook, dean of the college; Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Hoge, Marie Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Hill, Mrs. Frances Bull, Mrs. Moses R. Wright, Frank Berry, M. Gordon Keown, trustee of the schools, and Tracy Byers.

Mrs. McCullar to Speak.
MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 20.—Mrs. C. B. McCullar, of Milledgeville, will deliver the annual memorial address at Richland on April 26. Mrs. Hattie Parks is the U. S. D. C. chapter at Richland, which will sponsor the annual exercises.

Mill to Reopen.
CORDELE, Ga., March 20.—At the last week's Kiwanis meeting, W. R. Turner, president, stated that work on the Glover Steel mill would begin this week. The local club will invite the Kiwanis Club of Vienna to Cordele at an early date.

Barter Exchange.
VALDOSTA, Ga., March 20.—Roy Scott, president, of the barter exchange, a barter exchange in the city, with downtown headquarters, where anything for exchange may be listed. As soon as the exchange list is sufficient, the local club will open a show room where the articles may be displayed and through this means hopes to be of much public service.

Gets Year for Parking.
VALDOSTA, Ga., March 20.—Zeke Kizer, a negro truck operator, is under a sentence of one year on the ground of a fine of $100 for leaving a loaded truck without a light on a highway.

Kizer said he had a load of wood on his truck and a tire went flat late in the afternoon. He left the truck on the road with a light and offered no adequate excuse. Immediately after sentence was passed his attorney made a motion for a new trial and this was set for a hearing on April 17.

Archery Contests.
MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 20.—Students at the Georgia State College for Women are enjoying archery contests during the early spring. Markers have been set up on the two campus and a great number of students have been trying their skill with the bow and arrow.

Miss Ennis Recovering.
MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 20.—Miss O'Nora Ennis, sister of State Representative J. Howard Ennis, is convalescing from a serious illness of many months, at the home of her brother here. Miss Ennis has been for many years a teacher in the public schools of Georgia, and is widely known over the state. She was head of the English department in the high school at Quitman when she became ill, and for many weeks grave concern was felt over her condition.

Bandits Rob Store.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 20.—Entering the North Broad street store of the Golden's Cash Grocery here Saturday night at midnight, just as employees were preparing to go home, two unknown and unidentified men held up the manager, Philip Eason, and his assistants at the point of pistols and secured $50 and $80 in cash. One of the bandits struck an employee, Ed Clark, on the side of the head with his pistol, when he didn't move around as quick as he thought he should, caused only a minor injury, however.

Sheriff's Office Busy.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 20.—With an easing up of the money situation following the reopening of banks, the sheriff's office has been busy for the past few days receiving tax funds on file, turned over for collection by the tax collector. It was recently announced that there are many thousands of dollars in past due taxes unpaid at this time, and an effort is being made to collect some of these now muchly needed funds.

TONITE AT 9:30
THE DYING GLADIATORS
COMEDY HIT OF THE MARATHON
660 23
HOURS COUPLES
STILL GOING STRONG
AT THE Palais Peachtree

LOEW'S GRAND
UNTIL 10:00 P.M. MONDAY—25c
BALCONY 25c ANY TIME
STARTING FRIDAY!

JOHN ETHEL LIONEL
AT THE NEW "LOEW" PRICES
BARRYMORE
RASPUTIN
AND THE EMPRESS

Opening Tonight 8:15
Texas Ranger Rodeo

Sponsored by The American Legion
LAKEWOOD PARK

A Thrilling Contest of Cowboy Sports

Cat Used by Negro Farm Tenant As Goad for Young Bull in Plowing

ALBANY, Ga., March 20.—(AP)—Necessity mothered an invention that utilized a cat's claws in hurrying along the spring plowing in a Lee county farm. The landlord, an Albany businessman, learned of the contrivance through his negro tenant's application for a male to replace a dead bull.

"Hit's lak dis, boss," the negro explained. "Dat bull hain't broke to plow yet. Hit takes me to lead him and one of de boys to hold de plow in de row and taddy boy to tote de cat."

Greatly puzzled, the landlord inquired in that manner a cat entered the agricultural scheme of things. "Boss, de cat on dat bull's back is de only thing what'll bring him out of a lak," was the tenant's explanation. "De boy put de cat on his back and pull de cat along by his tail and de way dat ox make up his mind to go back to plowin' is sumpin' else again."

MEN OF COVINGTON
PLAN TO PRESENT
"BEAUTY CONTEST"

COVINGTON, Ga., March 20.—Not to be outdone by its feminine pulchritude which last week went on display in a beauty revue, representative businessmen of Covington Wednesday night will put on their own "beauty contest" when they appear at the Strand theater, bejeweled and gowned, powdered and rouged, to give their impersonations of outstanding movie actresses. The male beauty contest will not be mere comedy, but will assume the proportions of serious imitations, the entrants wearing silks and satins and portraying the virtues of the actresses.

The Atlanta Constitution has announced that the winner of the contest will be awarded to the man chosen as the "most beautiful" of the pseudo actresses. The Atlanta Constitution has announced that the winner of the contest will be awarded to the man chosen as the "most beautiful" of the pseudo actresses.

Georgia News Told in Brief

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 20.—(AP) Arrived: Cornelia, Porto Rico; City of Savannah Boston via New York; Fairfax, Baltimore; Nankai Maru, Japan, New York.

Sailed: City of Chattanooga, Boston via New York; Freida, Jacksonville; Nankai Maru, Japan, Los Angeles; Fairfax, Jacksonville.

Mill to Reopen.
CORDELE, Ga., March 20.—At the last week's Kiwanis meeting, W. R. Turner, president, stated that work on the Glover Steel mill would begin this week. The local club will invite the Kiwanis Club of Vienna to Cordele at an early date.

Gets Year for Parking.
VALDOSTA, Ga., March 20.—Zeke Kizer, a negro truck operator, is under a sentence of one year on the ground of a fine of $100 for leaving a loaded truck without a light on a highway.

Kizer said he had a load of wood on his truck and a tire went flat late in the afternoon. He left the truck on the road with a light and offered no adequate excuse. Immediately after sentence was passed his attorney made a motion for a new trial and this was set for a hearing on April 17.

Archery Contests.
MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 20.—Students at the Georgia State College for Women are enjoying archery contests during the early spring. Markers have been set up on the two campus and a great number of students have been trying their skill with the bow and arrow.

Miss Ennis Recovering.
MILLEDGEVILLE, Ga., March 20.—Miss O'Nora Ennis, sister of State Representative J. Howard Ennis, is convalescing from a serious illness of many months, at the home of her brother here. Miss Ennis has been for many years a teacher in the public schools of Georgia, and is widely known over the state. She was head of the English department in the high school at Quitman when she became ill, and for many weeks grave concern was felt over her condition.

Bandits Rob Store.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 20.—Entering the North Broad street store of the Golden's Cash Grocery here Saturday night at midnight, just as employees were preparing to go home, two unknown and unidentified men held up the manager, Philip Eason, and his assistants at the point of pistols and secured $50 and $80 in cash. One of the bandits struck an employee, Ed Clark, on the side of the head with his pistol, when he didn't move around as quick as he thought he should, caused only a minor injury, however.

Sheriff's Office Busy.
THOMASVILLE, Ga., March 20.—With an easing up of the money situation following the reopening of banks, the sheriff's office has been busy for the past few days receiving tax funds on file, turned over for collection by the tax collector. It was recently announced that there are many thousands of dollars in past due taxes unpaid at this time, and an effort is being made to collect some of these now muchly needed funds.

TONITE AT 9:30
THE DYING GLADIATORS
COMEDY HIT OF THE MARATHON
660 23
HOURS COUPLES
STILL GOING STRONG
AT THE Palais Peachtree

LOEW'S GRAND
UNTIL 10:00 P.M. MONDAY—25c
BALCONY 25c ANY TIME
STARTING FRIDAY!

JOHN ETHEL LIONEL
AT THE NEW "LOEW" PRICES
BARRYMORE
RASPUTIN
AND THE EMPRESS

Opening Tonight 8:15
Texas Ranger Rodeo

Sponsored by The American Legion
LAKEWOOD PARK

A Thrilling Contest of Cowboy Sports

U.S.L.T.A. MAPS PLANS TO BRING DAVIS CUP BACK

America's Hopes High as Vines Is Ranked World's Best.

By Jack Cuddy,
United Press Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, March 20.—(UPI)—Now that the indoor championships have been thrashed out, the United States Lawn Tennis Association will launch America's 33rd campaign for the Davis cup in New York state to bring back the historic trophy, despite the record entry this year of 33 nations.

This trophy, emblematic of the world's amateur tennis championship, has been held by France since 1927, but the United States team is favored to return it this summer to the land of its donor, Dwight P. Davis, because Ellsworth Vines is ranked as the world's leading player and because he will receive strong support from a group of able young stars.

MEETING CALLED.
Bernon S. Prentice, of New York, who again has been appointed chairman of the association's cup committee and chairman of the selection committee, today issued a call for the first meeting of his committee to be held March 27 at the Racquet and Tennis Club.

At this meeting, tentative dates for playing the Davis cup matches will be officially ratified. This schedule was prepared under authority of the French Lawn Tennis Federation, which delegated the U. S. L. T. A. to conduct play in the North American zone.

Under this schedule, the United States will play its first-round match against Mexico more than a month earlier than was expected when the draw was made on February 2 in Paris. At this time it was believed the United States and Mexico would meet about June 13, but the tentative schedule, released today, slates the competition for May 5, 6 and 7 at Mexico City.

The two other countries in the North American zone, Cuba and Canada, will play their first-round matches in Havana, and May 11 to 13, if it is staged in Canada.

Winners of these two North American ties will meet in a second-round match May 18 to 20 at a place in the United States to be designated. If the United States is victorious in this second competition, as expected, it will meet the winner of the South American zone May 25 to 27 in some United States city.

SCHEDULE.
Winner of the South American zone will be determined on the following schedule: Chile meets Brazil in the first-round match March 31 to April 2. In the second-round play, Uruguay meets the Chile-Brazil winner, and Peru opposes Argentina, April 3 to 5. Winners of those two tournaments will clash April 8 to 10 for South American zone supremacy.

The Argentine association, designated by France to conduct the Davis cup American zone play, notified the U. S. L. T. A. that the southern zone winner will sail for the United States on April 22, arriving in New York about May 10.

If the United States defeats the South American zone winner, May 25 to 27, it will meet the winner of the European zone at Paris for the right to battle France for the cup.

Rick Ferrell Must Take Browns' Terms

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., March 20.—(AP)—Informed today that Rick Ferrell, his only holdout, had announced he would come here for a salary conference, President Phil Ball, of the St. Louis Browns, said: "Of course I will talk with Ferrell but if he signs it will be at the club's terms, not his."

CHARLIE UNDERWOOD.
BOXSPRING, Ga., March 20.—"Uncle" Charlie Underwood, age 88, died at his residence Saturday morning, and was buried the following day at 2 o'clock in the County Line Baptist church cemetery. The services were witnessed by a host of relatives and friends.

PART OF MISSING FUNDS RECOVERED IN TENN.
BRISTOL, Tenn., March 20.—(AP) Richard M. Atkinson, attorney-general of Davidson county, announced today that he had recovered $24,500 in $1,000 and $500 gold certificates, the proceeds he said, from sales of securities missing from the state insurance department.

Joseph I. Reese, former state insurance commissioner, is charged with larceny of $100,000 bonds from the insurance department and his brother, Lem Reese, is charged with receiving stolen property.

"The money was delivered to me here today by a man whose name I cannot now divulge," Atkinson said.

Stomach Ulcers
Caused by Hyperacidity
3-Day Relief—No Operation

No need to suffer with ulcers due to hyperacidity, distress after eating, stomach pain, gas, sour stomach, indigestion or constipation. Try this Tishler and Vetter's "Stomach Relief" medicine. Get them from any local drug store or write for full information to Tishler and Vetter, 111 E. Third Street, New York, N. Y.

Columbia Girl Looms As Dixie Golf Threat

By Dillon Graham,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

The south that has never produced its full quota of fine women golfers now offers a real prospect in Kathryn Hemphill, of Columbia, S. C.

Mrs. Alexa Sterling Fraser, Mrs. David Gaut and Mrs. Marion Turpie Lake have gone farther in national competition than any other southerners. There are many good golfers in this section but few have had any success in play with nationally known stars.

Miss Hemphill is young in age and experience, but she has the swing, the shots and the temperament. And she's a fighter, which sometimes counts for more than just being able to execute shots. Her home is a masher nibble shot distant from the Ridgewood course in Columbia, but until three years ago she had never played a full round.

Six weeks after her first complete 18 holes, she entered the women's club championship and won the title. Last year she won the title in this event as well as in the women's meet at Forest Lake, another Columbia course, and set records on both layouts.

After her local triumphs she advanced to the semi-finals of the Biltmore tournament in Asheville, N. C., and later won an invitation tournament there. Like Helen Hicks, the former national titleholder, Kathryn played on her high school golf team.

Her first venture into competition with nationally known experts came last week at Augusta, Ga., and her play there drew high praise from Maureen O'Connell and Mrs. O. S. Hill. Qualifying well up among the leaders, she defeated experienced performers, Miss Jean Jacques, of New York, and Mrs. H. C. Kersten, of Richmond, a former Virginia champion, in the early rounds.

She faced Miss O'Connell in the semi-finals. The Englewood, N. J., star, a long driver and one of the nation's best, completed the first nine in two under par and was four up on Miss Hemphill.

There was the test to show whether Kathryn possessed the courage to battle against such odds. And she did it. Shooting the first four holes of the home nine in one under par she wiped out Maureen's lead and squared the match.

She had gained a victory whether she won the match or not. Maureen put together two birdies and a par to win the next three holes and the contest, but she had afterwards. She had the experience I have said she was a world-beater.

Lack of financial backing will keep Kathryn from entering many of the higher ranking tournaments but she plans to putter around the south and gain more experience before tackling the stars of the game again.

She's about 20 years old, around five feet six inches, with black bobbed hair and blue eyes. Her brother, Melvin, a southpaw professional here, has taught her to play. She may enter the southern meet at Albany, Ga., in June.

BOWLING
According to a statement from Archie Lewis, secretary of the Bell System Bowling League, much interest and enthusiasm has been aroused over the first staging of a duckpin sweepstakes by the Bell System Bowling League, starting tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

The tourney is slated to go for five games, handicaps being applied, and the total pins to decide the winners of the cash prizes awarded.

Among those who will bowl in the tourney are W. P. Dill, A. Lewis, G. H. Tyler, J. S. Hughes, R. S. Grit, H. R. Crenshaw, R. D. Bates, D. W. Johnson, R. J. Connett, R. Malone, T. L. Johnson, O. C. Wells, U. A. Robertson, J. H. Jennings, E. A. Robertson, W. P. Oliver, C. W. Dennis, J. A. Fore, G. C. Coale, C. F. Goodie, H. L. Phillips, J. A. Dunsen, C. Pearson, J. L. M. Tappan, G. M. Todd, R. O. Campbell, F. R. Giesner, J. C. Gilmer, W. L. Thomas, and M. D. Barnett.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE.
Hirsch Bros. vs. Hanchett Pen Shop. Power Club vs. Biltmore Bowling Club. Fulton vs. Cotton Mills vs. De Fox and Austin.

FIRE INSURANCE LEAGUE.
Cotton Insurance Assn. vs. Travelers No. 1. America Fore vs. Commercial Union Assn. Travelers No. 2 vs. Hartford Fire.

Carl Tidwell, of the Tidwell Company team, bowled the highest individual set recorded in the special match between the All Stars and the Biltmore Bowling Center teams Saturday night, having games of 142, 129, 113 for a 384 total. Carl is rated one of the best special match bowlers in the city, and is a consistent high scorer. Lawson was high for the Biltmore Bowling Center team with a 364.

Georgia Boy Gets Trial With Dobbs

Earl Nelson, LaFayette, Ga., boy, a student at the "Kidd" Elberfeld baseball school in Chattanooga, has been signed for a tryout in the pastures of the Charlotte Hornets by Manager Johnny Dobbs.

Another Georgian attending this school is Mercer Harris, Lawrenceville boy, who was recently let out by the Knoxville Smokies. Gilbert predicts a big league career for the Gwinnett county boy and believes that the Smoky management made a big mistake by letting Harris go.

Guards Play Savannah For Cup

The Governor's Horse Guards polo team will go to Savannah April 30 for a series of games with the 118th field artillery for the 11th field artillery challenge cup.

The cup was offered three years ago and has been held since by the Atlanta team. In the series last year the Savannah four came near winning when the games were pushed to four before the Horse Guards could win. After splitting the first two the third game was tied and another was necessary.

Games have been arranged this year for April 30 and May 7. Others will be played in event either team fails to win the first two. Colonel Shaftall B. Coleman, of the 118th field artillery, who was here yesterday completing arrangements for the series, said the Savannah team had been playing steadily this year and both men and horses had improved over last year's team.

NAMES.
Some of the candidates for the University of Pittsburgh football team will include Wojcikowski, Olejniczak, Kopolovich, Wohlgenuth, Macrie, Shelsky, Balasin, Geleri, Troglione and—believe it or not—Hogan!

BASEBALL
At Clearwater—New York A. 700 00 Newark (I. L.) 00 06 Philadelphia (A.) 00 04 MacFarland and Glenn; Murphy, Maunax and Herschberger.

At Fort Myers, Fla.—Fort Myers 000 00-0 3 3 Philadelphia (A.) 000 00-4 8 1 Bennett, Swaney and Barrett; Krause, Cole and Madjicki.

At Winter Haven—St. Louis (N. L.) 000 00-0 4 2 Boston (N. L.) 000 00-7 2 (Called rain.) Halkas, Walker and O'Farrell; Selbach, Mangum and Hogan, Spohrer.

At Winter Haven—Montreal (I. L.) 010 001 010 2-8 12 Phillips (I. L.) 101 010 000 2-8 2 (Tie; game called and tenth, darkness.) Ogden, Sweetland, Pomorski and Grabowski, Tate; Butler, Moore, Adams and Todd.

IF YOU CAN WEAR
THE DICTATOR MODEL
YOU'RE DUE FOR THE SURPRISE OF YOUR LIFE.

Let's make this plain right from the start. The Dictator is not "just another suit." Far from it—it's a smart, zesty style specially designed by Hickey-Freeman for younger men . . . and for older men who have retained a slender, athletic build. When you slip into the Dictator and step in front of a mirror, you're going to get a shock—a pleasant, enjoyable shock. For you'll be looking at one of the most smartly dressed, cleanest-cut, up-and-comingest young men you've ever seen.

SPRING SUIT PRICES
$45 to $65
GEORGE MUSE CLOTHING CO.
"The Style Center of the South"
PEACHTREE : WALTON : BROAD

THE GUMPS—NOW YOU SEE 'EM—NOW YOU DON'T

LITTLE ORPHAN ANNIE—SHE DOESN'T KNOW HER POWER

MOON MULLINS—KAYO CONSULTS THE FAMILY ORACLE

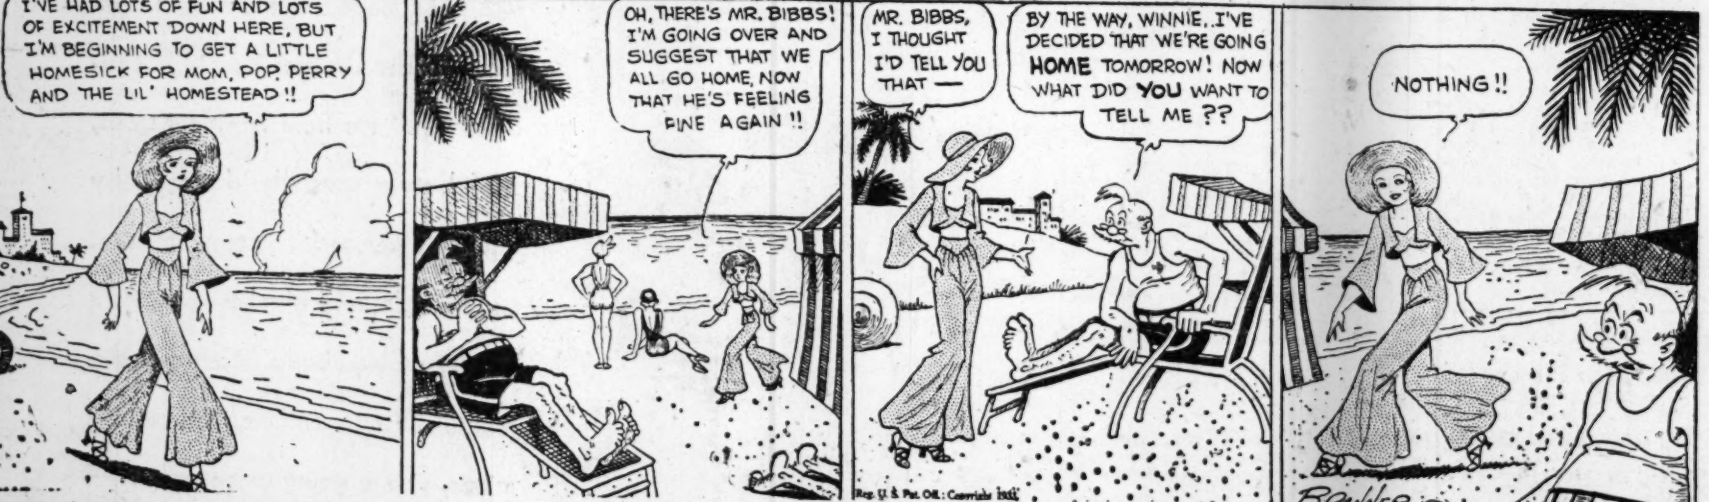

SMITTY—CLEARED FOR ACTION

GASOLINE ALLEY—AT LEAST IT'S FREE

WINNIE WINKLE, THE BREADWINNER—TWO MINDS WITH BUT A SINGLE THOUGHT

Folly Island

By Wallace Irwin

SYNOPSIS. Bart Burgess is marooned in a catboat on Folly Island, 50 miles from his Long Island home in Wyatville. His companion, Ingly Warren, a spoiled child of a new-made fortune known as "Kosy Ingly," roams to town and sends Bart help and taxis home. A girl in a canoe invites Bart over to her family's island. Bart learns that she is one of the stazlers, who have lived on the island 15 years, but don't mix. The father travels. He invites the girl, Alice, to visit him in Wyatville. Less than a week later, Mrs. Burgess, Bart's father, died suddenly from a heart attack. Bart is left with the care of his invalid mother. The biggest scandal of the Bayleys of Folly Island are his second family. They know him as Matthew Bayley. He asks Bart, for his mother's sake, to guard the secret, and leaves a fortune to provide for the Bayleys. Bart calls on Mrs. Bayley, posing as a lawyer, and finds her a lovely woman, not the hardhearted he expected. He returns two weeks later with the legacy. Bart is happy to learn from her mother that Alice isn't Matthew Bayley's daughter. But to keep her from visiting his home and seeing his father's picture is now a problem. He leaves a fortune to provide for the Bayleys. Bart calls on Mrs. Bayley, posing as a lawyer, and finds her a lovely woman, not the hardhearted he expected. He returns two weeks later with the legacy. Bart is happy to learn from her mother that Alice isn't Matthew Bayley's daughter. But to keep her from visiting his home and seeing his father's picture is now a problem. He leaves a fortune to provide for the Bayleys.

others, his eyes engaged with the melancholy financial reports in the newspapers. He was not in a sociable mood, and instinctively he withdrew from the political opinions and wise cracking which were sure to follow the first reading of the front page, all along the line. Again he saw the angry look in Alice's face; yes, and the passionate young love which had made it blaze. Ah, the adorable creature. . . . Savagely he crushed the thought out of his mind. "Well, how'd the boy financier this morning?" He looked up and saw Ingly Warren in an old brown suit, cool and porous like shredded wheat. "I guess so," "Oh, hello." Not very invitingly. But Ingly took the next seat, offered his cigarette case and when his generosity was ignored, selected one for himself. "Swell day to be out on the water, isn't it?" Ingly kept his voice quiet, so that it barely rose above the rattle of the train. "Yeah, swell." "Everybody has to work this summer," grumbled Ingly. "I'm ordinary times, now, I'd be on the water, far away. Nice water around Folly Island, when the tide's high." "I guess so," "Guess so?" Ingly Warren's rosebud mouth widened in a smile. "Come along, Bart, Enterprise is half the battle. And that's the very thing you've got." "Say, what are you shooting it?" Bart faced him harshly. "Listen, dear boy, the day we saw that Wonder Girl in the canoe we started even-Stephen, didn't we? But I was sluggish. That's my great trouble. And I certainly admire a fast worker. See what I'm shooting at now?" Merry and teasing, he laid his hand on Bart's knee. "No." This was a lie in one syllable. "Well, I'll tell you. That girl's about the best I've seen along the north shore. What did I do about it? Just went home and thought it over. But you got the job like a fireman. Now I know what you've been doing with your Saturday afternoon. Did you make an impression? Who? You know I slightly wrecked myself on that desert island the other day. And she gave me the best restful sleep I ever had. It was Bart this and Bart that. You certainly put up the moon for her." Bart sat silent, considering what to do. But when he saw the law and the scandal all over Wyatville, he decided that would be pleasant, if impractical. And how much had the Bayleys told Ingly? Very little, up to now. Just what a poem, isn't it? I mean that lovely creature and all the flowers, and that sort of thing. Bart, I think you and I are pretty lucky sailors. I mean, getting ourselves stranded in those waters." It was evident that the puppet master's quick little mind was plotting combinations, embarrassing to everybody but himself. The train was now roaring through the tunnel, men were getting up, reaching for their hats. And Ingly Warren was leaning over, his chin within splendid punching distance of a restive list. "I think you're damned impertinent," said Bart against his better judgment. "Think I'm what?" "Darned impertinent." "O, yes. With the cheerful smile of good fellowship. I guess we're both that, aren't we?" The train drew up at a platform under the Pennsylvania station. Bart was now in a cold rage, but not too angry to regret his show of temper. There was no heading Ingly off by barking at him. To resort to simple racketeering and beat him up would accomplish nothing. That had been tried before, and without success—witness the scandal in at least one family, leading to a divorce and a carefree victory for Ingly Warren. And here was no case for strong-arm methods. The honor of the family required dishonorable silence, and subterfuges more dishonorable still. Out on the platform the tremendous crowd of Bart's family required a puggy old gentleman; somehow you knew that his panama had covered a perfectly bald head. As Bart came along, he was caught by the elbow and said, "General Farnham." The general made a bronchial noise, focused bovine eyes through very small nose glasses and

They walked together to the main rotunda of the station, where Trevor Wyatt spoke of burying to the subway; apparently he had had enough of the general for one morning. But as he marched along beside Bart, reading a Genesis chapter of Farnham's leading up to Mrs. Trevor Burgess, the young man had one of those flashes which come sometimes from a morbid state of mind. Philadelphia. And General Farnham was Philadelphia from Rittenhouse square to Radnor. Philadelphia. Mrs. Bayley had mentioned it so secretively on Bart's first meeting with her. The telegram on her desk, under the book, had been dated from Philadelphia. . . . "I wonder if you know any Bayleys in Philadelphia?" "How do you spell the name?" The general was a little deaf. "B-a-y-l-e-y." "Never heard of 'em." That settled the Bayleys, swept beyond the social register, back to the telephone book. And the general should have known. He took 10 minutes of Bart's time reciting the family archives line by line. In saying good-bye his handshake was full of gratitude, a little like Aunt Augusta's. Bart Burgess, going on his way, had few thoughts to waste on General Farnham and his book of family origin. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to catch an eel. Year in and year out Hen had collected his monthly pay from Matthew Bayley for the very easy task of saying nothing and doing less. Hen Love had grown from a middle-aged man to an old one, enjoying the fruits of silence until he had come to believe that his penitence was an honest one. He had been neighborly and obliging as he never failed to remind his benefactor when pay day came around. Since first they came there the Bayleys had become more a part of his profession than the catching of eels. And as he had almost admitted to Bart Burgess, it takes an eel to

Mrs. Woodrow Wilson Honored During Short Visit in Atlanta

Several hundred prominent Atlantans paid homage to Mrs. Woodrow Wilson by assembling at the luncheon given yesterday at the Capital City Club by members of the Woman's Democratic Club of Fulton county in honor of this distinguished visitor who spent the day here. Mrs. Stacey Earnest Hill, president of the Woman's Democratic Club, presided at the luncheon and introduced a group of prominent democratic leaders in this state who paid tribute to Mrs. Wilson and to the memory of her late husband. Woodrow Wilson, America's beloved and distinguished war president, brief speeches of welcome to Mrs. Wilson were made by Governor Eugene Talmadge, Senator John S. Cohen, Clark Howell Sr., Hugh Howell, Hamilton McWhorter, Ed Rivers, Mrs. Edgar Alexander and Miss Eleanor Orr. Others seated at the speakers' table were Mrs. Eugene Talmadge, Mrs. B. M. Boykin, Miss Martha Berry of Rome, Ga.; Mrs. Claude Smith, Mrs. Z. V. Peterson, Mrs. Ben Purvis, Mrs. Hamilton McWhorter and Mrs. George Hillen Jr.

Though Mrs. Wilson came to Atlanta with the understanding that she would not be asked to speak, she graciously arose at the conclusion of the luncheon in acknowledgment of the royal welcome extended her, and in a charmingly informal manner expressed her appreciation of the personal compliments and of the loyal devotion evidenced toward her husband, the late President Woodrow Wilson.

Mrs. Wilson wore for the occasion a handsome gown of black crepe, the lower part of the close-fitting sleeves being fashioned of white chiffon lavishly embroidered in crystals. Complementing her costume was a small black velvet turban trimmed with a rhinestone ornament and with which she wore a brief veil of filmy black lace. Gracing her left shoulder was a bouquet of deep purple orchids and valley lilies.

An entertaining feature of the luncheon were the violin solos played by James de la Fuente, accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Valeska de la Fuente, accomplished Atlanta musicians.

Following the luncheon Mrs. Wilson departed with Miss Martha Berry by motor for Rome where she will visit the well-known Berry schools before continuing her journey to Florida.

On arrival at the Brookwood station yesterday morning Mrs. Wilson was met by Governor and Mrs. Eugene Talmadge and a group of democratic leaders. She was the guest of Georgia's chief executive and Mrs. Talmadge at the mansion for breakfast followed by a motor trip to points of interest in Atlanta.

Y. W. C. A. Clubs Plan Varied Activities on Weekly Calendar

In the crisis of meeting emergency needs on decreased budget and with curtailed staff the Young Women's Christian Association is gratified that monthly statistics prove that more than 100 girls are benefiting by the clubs offered adolescent girls; more industrial and unemployed girls are enjoying recreational opportunities at no cost; business girls show a growth in attendance and interest; the health education department is giving increased community service and more outside groups are taking advantage of the comfortable and convenient facilities of the Administration building at 37 Auburn avenue.

Thursday evening, March 23, the Rainbow Club will entertain at a dance in the Y gymnasium, raising funds to send delegates to the annual regional industrial conference held in North Carolina in June. Miss Ollie Mae Fleming, of the local club, has the honor of being a member of the council planning the conference program and she and other delegates elected by club membership are looking forward to this event. Miss Laura Langley is in charge of the dance and a unique entertainment feature, arranged by Miss Darlene Moon, will be the jigsaw contest. The dance will be 25c per person, with 15c charged to those entering the jigsaw competition.

New interest groups added recently to the swimming, dancing and sewing classes, include tennis and a chess school. Mrs. Irene B. Daniels, of the Opportunity School, is sponsoring the latter course, and Mrs. G. W. Grice may be lending her advice and counsel to girls with knotty personal problems.

The Da-time Club, recently organized by unemployed girls who formerly attended the Rainbow Club, is specializing in cooking inexpensive and nutritious meals, under the direction of Mrs. Everett. With special attention to food values and careful planning and buying, they have prepared an attractive luncheon for 3 cents per dish. After the lesson the girls enjoy swimming and games. This club meets regularly every Thursday morning at 11 o'clock and is open to all unemployed girls who have worked in industry or any girl who is working one or two days per week.

This week the 23 Girl Reserve Clubs in the Y. W. C. A. will enjoy outdoor wieners, roast, candle ceremonials, industrial tours and stunt programs which reveal the ingenuity and varied talents of program chairmen. A new and interesting feature is the supervised tour through Davidson-Paxon's store Monday afternoon, when Iris Lee conducts the Commercial High and Joe Brown Junior High Girl Reserves from the basement to the top of this mammoth store, explaining various phases of modern merchandising. As the majority of these girls are pursuing secretarial courses, they will be interested particularly in the accounting and clerical departments.

Decatur High group, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Cousins, will stage an entertaining program for the Family Welfare Girl Reserves meeting Wednesday, March 22, at the Y. W. C. A. Songs, stunts, readings and other amusing features will be given.

Druid Hills Girl Reserves are enjoying handicraft classes under the supervision of Miss Anne Lloyd Litzgin, who is remembered as the instructor at Camp Highland last summer. Classes are held on alternate Friday mornings and at present the girls are making Girl Reserve bracelets of hammered silver. Tuesday this group will give a wieners roast, with the Hi-Y club members as special guests.

On Friday, March 24, the Fulton High Girl Reserves will furnish an assembly program of fun and frolic for the entire school, under the direction of Miss Edith McCallie, faculty adviser, and Miss Dorothy Ruth Moore, president.

Friends and mothers are invited to the recognition service of the Murphy Junior High Girl Reserves Tuesday afternoon, March 21, when "Candles That Burn," the ceremonial of welcome, is given. Over 80 girls dressed in blue and white, carrying burning tapers, will take part, the 12 leaders carrying candles of different colors and interpreting each line of the Girl Reserve code. Miss Katherine Barker, faculty adviser, and Miss Margaret Reeves, president, will assist with this ceremony. Miss Frances Bussey is program chairman for the Murphy club.

Fulton High Girl Reserves will be conducted on a tour through the National Biscuit Company plant, with Misses Isabel Dew and Byrd Strickland supervising.

Service Star Legion Holds Meeting.

The Mrs. Sam D. Jones chapter of the Service Star Legion met recently at the Buckhead tavern and was presided over by Mrs. Beverly DuBose, president. A report of funds obtained recently through sponsorship of a picture at the Buckhead theater was made. These proceeds will be used for the furnishing of numerous useful items for needy veterans at Hospital 48.

A letter was read from Mrs. Howard Payne, of Elberton, chairman of the relief fund for Georgia, in which financial assistance was requested so that the children of a disabled veteran might continue in school. A donation for this cause was pledged.

Members present were Mesdames Beverly DuBose, Gilbert Beers, H. W. Beers, Frank Ramey, Philip Graves, Bolling Jones Jr., Hinton Longino, William Plummer, G. H. Hildebrandt, Tyler Bullock, Gray Lambert, Frank Alcorn, Royall M. Miller and Miss Harriet Noyes.

Candidates for officers for the ensuing year will be nominated at the next meeting of the chapter, to be held at the home of Mrs. Beverly DuBose, April 11.

Mrs. Boyd Reads One-Act Play.

Mrs. John F. Boyd, dramatist and reader, afforded entertainment to a large audience at the Woman's Club on Sunday, when she read the one-act play, "Sojourners," by Anna Harwell and Isabelle Meeker. The program was presented by the Atlanta Woman's Club, of which Mrs. William P. Dunn is president, through the fine arts department, with Mrs. James R. Little, chairman. Hostesses were Mesdames Willis Westmoreland, W. E. Beckham, Mrs. Wilmer Moore and John Dobbs. Rev. Calvin B. Williams introduced Mrs. Boyd, paying tribute to her cultural influence. Mrs. Boyd possesses a rare gift for creating the atmosphere for the setting, and of making characters live with vividness for her audience. In her manner and charming presentation she moves her listeners to a sympathetic understanding of each character, and there were seven in "Sojourners." Her speaking voice is one of richness and clarity, and her enunciation was faultless. With the subtle innuendo of the voice in each character, and the emotional depth in tense moments, she led her audience to actually feel with the characters the conflicts and turmoil of their lives. No greater success could a reader attain. And the audience was grateful for her art.

WOMEN'S MEETINGS

TUESDAY, MARCH 21.

Atlanta Colony, National Society New England Women, meets with Mrs. Douglas W. Copeland, 1706 Pelham road, at 10:30 o'clock.

Georgia Tech Woman's Club meets at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. A. B. Morton, 969 Highland View.

The Atlanta Alumnae Club of Alpha Chi Omega meets at 3 o'clock at the home of Mrs. J. D. Brown, 120 Ponce de Leon court, Decatur.

Pioneer Current Events class meets at the home of Mrs. Richard Battle, 376 North avenue, N. E., at 11 o'clock.

Atlanta Agnes Scott Club meets at the home of Mrs. Asa Warren Candler, 1820 Ponce de Leon avenue, at 3 o'clock.

Lee Street P.-T. A. will observe daddies' night at 7:30 o'clock.

Forrest Avenue P.-T. A. meets at 3 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Crew Street P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock.

Kirkwood P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Home Park P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock.

Executive board of the W. M. S. of Druid Hills Methodist church meets at the home of Mrs. W. L. Campbell, 1214 North avenue, N. E., at 10 o'clock.

Georgia Avenue School P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium.

Alise class of the First Baptist church meets at 2 o'clock with Mrs. R. D. Beckham, 1198 Memorial drive.

Circles of the Woman's Auxiliary of Holy Trinity, Decatur, meet at 3 o'clock in the parish house on Ponce de Leon avenue.

Sylvan Hills P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock.

Girl's High P.-T. A. meets at 2:45 o'clock at the school.

Executive board of Davis Street School P.-T. A. meets at 1:30 o'clock.

Davis Street P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock.

Morningside P.-T. A. meets at the school at 3 o'clock.

Cascade P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock.

W. F. Slaton P.-T. A. meets in the school auditorium at 2:30 o'clock.

Garden division of the Atlanta Woman's Club meets at 10:30 o'clock at the High Museum of Art. Executive board of the garden division meets at 9:30 o'clock at the High museum.

Calhoun P.-T. A. meets at 2:45 o'clock.

Fair Street P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock.

Executive board of S. M. Inman P.-T. A. meets in the school library at 9:30 o'clock.

George W. Adair P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock.

School of methods of Boys' High P.-T. A. meets at 10:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. R. A. Long, 1082 St. Charles place.

Ladies' Aid of the Decatur Christian church meet at 10 o'clock at the church.

Grant Park P.-T. A. meets at 2:30 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The businesswomen's group of the T. E. L. Bible class of Druid Hills Baptist church meets at the church this evening, and supper will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Woman's Auxiliary Study class of St. Timothy's church, Kirkwood, meets immediately following a service by the rector at the church at 2:30 o'clock.

North Fulton High P.-T. A. meets at 2:45 o'clock in the school.

Capitol View School P.-T. A. meets at 2:45 o'clock.

The 1931 Matrons' Club will hold the monthly luncheon at Rich's tea room at 12 o'clock.

Decatur Chapter No. 148, O. E. S., meets in the Masonic temple this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

Atlanta Division 195, G. I. A. to B. of L. E., meets at 10 o'clock at Red Men's wigwam, 160 Central avenue, S. E.

Cascade Chapter No. 274, O. E. S., meets at 7:30 o'clock in Oakland City Masonic hall, on Lee street.

Mary E. La Rocca Grove No. 264, East Point, Woodmen circle, meets this evening at 8 o'clock in the Klan hall.

Circle No. 1, Trinity Methodist, meets at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. John W. Hardwick, 860 Ponce de Leon, N. E.; Circle No. 2 meets at 2:30 o'clock with Mrs. Charles E. Johnson, 325 Tenth street, N. E.

Moreland P.-T. A. meets at 3 o'clock in the school auditorium.

The West End Garden Club meets at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. M. Brooks, 1667 South Gordon street.

Will Speak to D. A. V. Auxiliary

Mrs. Frieda Mooney, national commander of the Women's Auxiliary to the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, will arrive in Atlanta today for an official visit. Mrs. Mooney will speak this evening at the meeting of the D. A. V. organizations and auxiliaries at 7:30 o'clock at the Veterans' Hospital No. 48, and she will be central figure at a luncheon at the Frances Virginia tea room tomorrow.

Popularity Contest.

A popularity contest sponsored by the P.-T. A. is being held at Commercial High school to determine which boy and girl will be crowned king and queen of the carnival to take place April 7. The following students have been chosen as initiates of the Quill and Scroll, international honorary society for high school journalists: Cora Farlowe, Alice Jones, Anne Glassman, Anne Parker, Ruby Berlin, Mary Boone, Willie Ridley, Frances Skundale, Lois Baron, May Lewis, Gladys Lewis, Martha Murat, Mary Pittman, Willene Petty, Hilton Chatham and Edith Warsaw. To be in this society, a student must be in the upper third of his class in scholarship and must have done outstanding work in journalism.

The faculty and their families were invited recently to an informal tea given in the school library for the purpose of meeting Mrs. E. L. Floyd, wife of the principal at Commercial High. Members of the bookkeeping department represented the faculty in receiving the guests.

Mrs. Candler Hostess.

Mrs. Asa G. Candler Jr. entertained at luncheon yesterday at Briarcliff Manor, her home in Druid Hills, complimenting Miss Elizabeth Sheldon and her guest, Miss Leafie Wilbur, of Baltimore, Md.

Covers were placed for Misses Wilbur, Elizabeth Sheldon, Claire Bullock, Mary Crenshaw, Mary Frances Gay, Helen Candler, Mrs. Jesse York and Mrs. C. A. Sheldon Jr.

Miss Sheldon kept open house Sunday afternoon at her home honoring her guest, Mrs. Charles A. Sheldon Jr. and Miss Claire Bullock assisted the hostess in entertaining the guests.

Fashion Favors GREY or BLUE T-U-C-K-S

$10

Handtucked Kid

The smartest Shoe Fashion to be presented this Spring.

Also Black, Parchment or White

Mail Service—Street Floor

RICH'S

A Woman Views Spring Styles For Men

By YVONNE COLLETTE.

Mesdames et Messieurs:

Spring—glorious spring—gay and carefree, and in the spring, a young man's fancy—ah, me, a young man's fancy. I am wondering if, too, when Midway sees her chosen one in his spring attire, her fancy also will not turn seriously to thoughts of 'l'amour.

For clothes make the man. And what a man they will make this spring. Let's take a peek at how the well-dressed man will appear to his lady love. First, we shall see how his spring chapeaux will look.

One of Fifth Avenue's most famous firms says "of the face or brim snapped down—it must be one or the other." There are presented two new textures in lovely felt, one a natural velvety finish mixture with just a suggestion of shagreen, and the other a smooth felt with unusual cleanness.

The snap brim with the natural trend to things interchangeable, no doubt, will have—what shall I say?—yes, tremendous possibilities. When the brim is up it can be worn over so smartly with town clothes, and with the brim snapped, it is suitable for all-day-from business wear.

The new shades are the browns in all their variations, and the grays from pearl to Oxford. The greens, too, will come in for their share of the glories of springtime.

Thursday, my dears, I shall tell you of the neckwear you should wish your beloved to choose.

Jenny Lind Club.

Jenny Lind Sewing Club met at the home of Mrs. C. S. Morris on Plum street recently, with eight members present. Mrs. A. B. Nesbit and Mrs. Lucy Wright were guests. Luncheon was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Cliff Newton.

Miss Gilmer Dailey Will Be Honored.

Miss Gilmer Dailey, bride-elect, will be honored Wednesday evening by Miss Susan Morris and Miss Elizabeth Whiddon at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Miss Morris at 8 o'clock.

Among those invited to attend are: Misses Maude Bryant, Mary Lichten-walter, Marian McDonald, Hortense Brown, Martha Fowler, Mary Johnson, Louise Robinson, Frances Hoser, Evelyn Grant Ethel Grant, Martha Dailey, Ella Frances Ivey, Mary Caldwell, Anile Galloway, Pauline Rochelle, Mary Frances Akers, Fay Morris and Miss Whiddon will be assisted in entertaining by their mothers, Mrs. W. H. Morris and Mrs. E. B. Whiddon.

Birthstone and Chrysal NECKLACES 39¢

See them made by hand! Just a few minutes' wait to have your birthstone or chrysal combined with sterling silver chains... chains that will not tarnish or discolor.

Earrings or bracelets to match 39¢

Mail Orders Given Careful Attention.

STREET FLOOR RICH'S INCORPORATED

The Specialty Shop features today--

50 New Dresses for Women $15

The fact that these are new styles—and every one stunning—all of them for women—make this an event of unusual importance!

Tuesday is Fashion Day at Rich's!

Specialty Shop, Third Floor

Each model has been checked for line, for style, for detail! This special price for such well-bred conservative dresses is amazing!

Models in Tea Room, 12 to 2 p. m.

Specialty Shop, Third Floor

Rich's

J. P. ALLEN & CO.

The Store All Women Know

Consult

VANTA

NURSE

HUBBARD

This nationally known expert on the care of infants will be in Allen's Baby Shop today and Wednesday. Third Floor.

BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Give him some cold meals, let him make the fires or shiver in an unheated house and when he curses you regard it as you would the barking of an ill-natured dog. He doesn't want to

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

Answer: Marry the man you love if you are convinced that he was the innocent party in the divorce. Your parents ought not to expect to choose your husband for you and unless they are mean and selfish they won't carry out their threat to disinherit you for having followed the dictates of your heart. Naturally enough their attitude renders you unhappy and poisons your pleasure in what should be the happiest event in your life. Surely if you show them how you are torn between love for them and love for your fiancé they will relent and give you their blessing.

CAROLINE CHATFIELD.

BY FLORENCE La GANKE.

The actual pattern for the Starlight Quilt Design may be obtained by sending three cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Nancy Page in care of The Atlanta Constitution. Back patterns may be secured by sending an additional three cents for each pattern requested.

(Copyright, 1933, for The Constitution.)

WA. 2726 GEORGIA RAILROAD WA. 3666

CAPTIVATING AS CAN BE.
Pattern 2576.

Bridge Party and Robert.

10:00—Howard Barlow and the Columbia

A

trump. The escape suit was very fine, and even if played in one no-

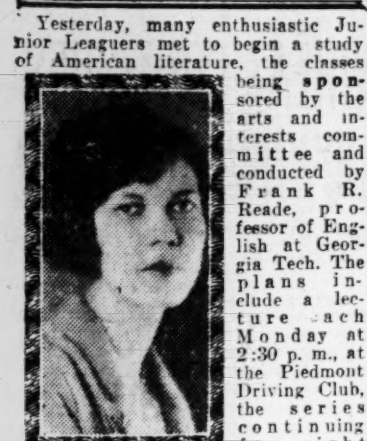

of Bridge," by Ely Culbertson. Address Mr. Culbertson in care of The Atlanta Constitution, inclos-

Watch The Constitution for Further Details

JUNIOR LEAGUE JOTTINGS

By MRS. HENRY W. GRADY JR.

Mrs. Russell Bellman, president of the Junior League, is one of the many enthusiastic members of the organization.

Yesterday, many enthusiastic Junior Leaguers met to begin a study of American literature, the classes being sponsored by the arts and interests committee and conducted by Frank R. Reade, professor of English at Georgia Tech. The plans include a lecture each Monday at 2:30 p. m., at the Piedmont Driving Club, continuing for eight weeks and costing $2. It is not too late for other members to join and anyone wishing to attend next Monday should call Mrs. Russell Bellman, Cherokee 1128, who will add each new name to the class roll.

A further interesting opportunity is offered to the public, as well as Junior Leaguers, when Mrs. Hal Davidson speaks next Tuesday, March 28, at the Piedmont Driving Club, at 3 o'clock; this also to be under the auspices of the arts and interests committee. Mrs. Davidson, who was raised in Russia and is now the wife of an Atlanta doctor, will talk on "Reminiscences of Old Russia," and as many Atlantans have had the pleasure during the past winter of hearing Princess Kropotkin and Maurice Hindus discuss the same Russia, Mrs. Davidson's subject will present an additional viewpoint. Tickets for this lecture are 25 cents and may be purchased at the door.

As the Atlanta Junior League is now in Region 5 with North and South Carolina and Florida, it will become necessary at the A. J. L. A. conference in May to elect a new regional director. For this position, Mrs. Billy Shaw Howell, an outstanding member of the Charlotte league, is being suggested, and Atlanta is very glad to second a person who qualifies so well for the office.

At the March meeting of the Junior League held last Tuesday, a number of announcements were made. Mrs. Green Warren reported that the properties of the Junior League children's play, "The Golden Goose," including scenery and costumes, had been sold to the Chattanooga League who plans to produce this play very soon. The rights to "The Golden Goose" belong to the Pasadena League who originated the words and music. Miss Margaret Nelson announced ambitious spring plans for the arts and interests committee. Besides the American literature classes and the talk by Mrs. Hal Davidson mentioned above, the Junior League art class, under the direction of an Atlanta artist, Mrs. Bush Brown, will continue several weeks longer. In addition the tuition for Bill Gray's second term in art school has been paid, his teachers reporting excellent progress, and in April a Junior League radio hour in connection with the Carnegie library is contemplated, the details to be decided later.

Mrs. Murdoch Egan, chairman of the Marionette committee, announced with regret that a trip to Augusta, which had been scheduled for this week, had been postponed, but expressed hope that the Marionettes would have the pleasure of appearing there sometime later in the spring.

Every morning this week, from 9:30 to 1 o'clock, Mrs. Turner Jones, our placement chairman, will hold office hours at the Piedmont Driving Club in order that she may interview the new members recently admitted to the Atlanta League. At the end of that time Mrs. Jones will have made a personal contact with every active member in our organization and the magnitude of what she has accomplished is overwhelming. In the process of interviewing, Mrs. Jones uncovered much hidden talent as well as expressions of discontent with uncooperative League jobs. Through her efforts many Junior Leaguers have found their particular bent and are now working with renewed enthusiasm, either on a Junior League committee or in some recreational or special welfare job outside the League. Mrs. Jones invites all Junior Leaguers who would like to hear more about the variety of interesting jobs now being done by our members or who would like to make some further change from their present committee, to call on her during the hours stated and she will be so glad to give each one the best of her advice and direction.

Mrs. Jesmier Speaks To Auxiliary Here.

Mrs. Anna C. Jesmier, national president of the auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans, was the guest of the department of Georgia and the session was held Tuesday in the Henry Grady hotel. Mrs. Jesmier spoke with great emphasis on the necessity of carrying forward a program of adequate national defense and hospitalization caring for aged and sick veterans being of paramount interest.

Mrs. Jesmier and Mrs. R. C. Irwin, state president, were guests of the Atlanta chapter of the Service Star Legion, at the meeting at the Atlanta Woman's Club house, and Mrs. W. F. Melton and talked on her work and plans as president of the national organization. A dinner was given at the hotel. Officers attending were Mrs. Katherine Badger, senior vice president; Mrs. Margaret Gallagher, department assistant; Mrs. Maggie Waldrup, past department president; Mrs. Theresa Shaddeau, department treasurer; Mrs. Ida Rogin, department secretary; Mrs. Maudie Malloy, president of Helen Gould Auxiliary No. 1; Mrs. Marie Steckel, president of Theodore Roosevelt Auxiliary No. 2; Mesdames R. Gossett, Mary Horton, A. B. Hayward and Etta Haley.

A bicentennial note was carried out with a program of songs. Mrs. A. O. Woodward, program chairman, introduced Miss Leila Mae Fairman, who sang Frank L. Stanton's "Mighty Lak a Rose" and "Just Awaiting for You." Colonel Franklin S. Chalmers, of the 328th infantry, officers' reserve, spoke on "The Relation of the Officers Reserve to the Country, State and City." W. A. Simon spoke on "Our Armies, Past, Present and Future." An honor guest was Miss Moina Michael, of Athens, known as the "young lady" who spoke on "Georgia's 200th Anniversary, Commemorating the Landing of Oglethorpe on Our Shores." Walter F. Hill, commander of department of Georgia, United Spanish War Veterans, spoke on "Our Veterans, Their Gift to Our Country in Time of War."

The colors of the organization were carried out in the menus of red with gold lettering; the mints of white and yellow and the yellow and red roses. American flags were placed behind the speakers' table and floor lamps, containing red, white and blue bulbs, completed the decorations. Mrs. Daisy Irwin, state president, presided at the dinner and distinguished guests invited to meet the national president were: Mrs. Bun Wylie, D. A. R.; Mrs. J. C. Mellichamp, state president of Service Star Legion; Mrs. J. C. Melton, president Atlanta chapter of Service Star Legion; Mrs. A. R. Colcord, U. D. C.; Mrs. D. M. Robinson, 48; Mrs. M. Arnold, auxiliary, V. F. W.; Mrs. Mildred Rhodes, national chairman, child welfare, auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans; Mrs. Franklin S. Chalmers, Mrs. W. A. Simon and B. Bernard, past commander of department of Georgia, United Spanish War Veterans, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher, of Columbus, Ga. A beautiful piece of silver was presented Mrs. Jesmier, the national president, by Mrs. Irwin.

Friends Pay Fine.

It looked like jail for penniless Romeo Paquette, of Woonsocket, R. I., when the judge told the convicted bootlegger he could choose between a 10-day sentence and a $50 fine. But Romeo was equal to the occasion. He passed the hat among friends in the courtroom and raised enough money to finance his fine.

Dr. Thomas Makes Child Welfare Talk To Association

The March meeting of Child Welfare Association was featured by the report of the educational committee, of which Mrs. Harold Wey is chairman, and Dr. Lavens Thomas is vice chairman. Mrs. Wey told of the plan of the committee to present at each meeting some phase of the child welfare problem.

The first of the new citizenship classes organized for Junior League members by our legislation chairman, Mrs. Harold Coolidge, will take place tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Claude McGinnis Jr., 1341 Ponce de Leon avenue. All Junior Leaguers interested in attending the classes and joining in the survey of the community that is contemplated, are invited to be present.

Mrs. Anna C. Jesmier, national president of the auxiliary of the United Spanish War Veterans, was the guest of the department of Georgia and the session was held Tuesday in the Henry Grady hotel. Mrs. Jesmier spoke with great emphasis on the necessity of carrying forward a program of adequate national defense and hospitalization caring for aged and sick veterans being of paramount interest.

Mrs. Jesmier and Mrs. R. C. Irwin, state president, were guests of the Atlanta chapter of the Service Star Legion, at the meeting at the Atlanta Woman's Club house, and Mrs. W. F. Melton and talked on her work and plans as president of the national organization. A dinner was given at the hotel. Officers attending were Mrs. Katherine Badger, senior vice president; Mrs. Margaret Gallagher, department assistant; Mrs. Maggie Waldrup, past department president; Mrs. Theresa Shaddeau, department treasurer; Mrs. Ida Rogin, department secretary; Mrs. Maudie Malloy, president of Helen Gould Auxiliary No. 1; Mrs. Marie Steckel, president of Theodore Roosevelt Auxiliary No. 2; Mesdames R. Gossett, Mary Horton, A. B. Hayward and Etta Haley.

A bicentennial note was carried out with a program of songs. Mrs. A. O. Woodward, program chairman, introduced Miss Leila Mae Fairman, who sang Frank L. Stanton's "Mighty Lak a Rose" and "Just Awaiting for You." Colonel Franklin S. Chalmers, of the 328th infantry, officers' reserve, spoke on "The Relation of the Officers Reserve to the Country, State and City." W. A. Simon spoke on "Our Armies, Past, Present and Future." An honor guest was Miss Moina Michael, of Athens, known as the "young lady" who spoke on "Georgia's 200th Anniversary, Commemorating the Landing of Oglethorpe on Our Shores." Walter F. Hill, commander of department of Georgia, United Spanish War Veterans, spoke on "Our Veterans, Their Gift to Our Country in Time of War."

The colors of the organization were carried out in the menus of red with gold lettering; the mints of white and yellow and the yellow and red roses. American flags were placed behind the speakers' table and floor lamps, containing red, white and blue bulbs, completed the decorations. Mrs. Daisy Irwin, state president, presided at the dinner and distinguished guests invited to meet the national president were: Mrs. Bun Wylie, D. A. R.; Mrs. J. C. Mellichamp, state president of Service Star Legion; Mrs. J. C. Melton, president Atlanta chapter of Service Star Legion; Mrs. A. R. Colcord, U. D. C.; Mrs. D. M. Robinson, 48; Mrs. M. Arnold, auxiliary, V. F. W.; Mrs. Mildred Rhodes, national chairman, child welfare, auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans; Mrs. Franklin S. Chalmers, Mrs. W. A. Simon and B. Bernard, past commander of department of Georgia, United Spanish War Veterans, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher, of Columbus, Ga. A beautiful piece of silver was presented Mrs. Jesmier, the national president, by Mrs. Irwin.

The colors of the organization were carried out in the menus of red with gold lettering; the mints of white and yellow and the yellow and red roses. American flags were placed behind the speakers' table and floor lamps, containing red, white and blue bulbs, completed the decorations. Mrs. Daisy Irwin, state president, presided at the dinner and distinguished guests invited to meet the national president were: Mrs. Bun Wylie, D. A. R.; Mrs. J. C. Mellichamp, state president of Service Star Legion; Mrs. J. C. Melton, president Atlanta chapter of Service Star Legion; Mrs. A. R. Colcord, U. D. C.; Mrs. D. M. Robinson, 48; Mrs. M. Arnold, auxiliary, V. F. W.; Mrs. Mildred Rhodes, national chairman, child welfare, auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans; Mrs. Franklin S. Chalmers, Mrs. W. A. Simon and B. Bernard, past commander of department of Georgia, United Spanish War Veterans, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher, of Columbus, Ga. A beautiful piece of silver was presented Mrs. Jesmier, the national president, by Mrs. Irwin.

Friends Pay Fine.

It looked like jail for penniless Romeo Paquette, of Woonsocket, R. I., when the judge told the convicted bootlegger he could choose between a 10-day sentence and a $50 fine. But Romeo was equal to the occasion. He passed the hat among friends in the courtroom and raised enough money to finance his fine.

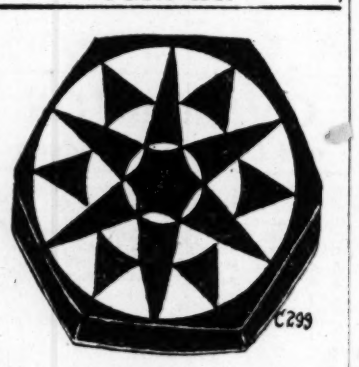

The colors of the organization were carried out in the menus of red with gold lettering; the mints of white and yellow and the yellow and red roses. American flags were placed behind the speakers' table and floor lamps, containing red, white and blue bulbs, completed the decorations. Mrs. Daisy Irwin, state president, presided at the dinner and distinguished guests invited to meet the national president were: Mrs. Bun Wylie, D. A. R.; Mrs. J. C. Mellichamp, state president of Service Star Legion; Mrs. J. C. Melton, president Atlanta chapter of Service Star Legion; Mrs. A. R. Colcord, U. D. C.; Mrs. D. M. Robinson, 48; Mrs. M. Arnold, auxiliary, V. F. W.; Mrs. Mildred Rhodes, national chairman, child welfare, auxiliary, United Spanish War Veterans; Mrs. Franklin S. Chalmers, Mrs. W. A. Simon and B. Bernard, past commander of department of Georgia, United Spanish War Veterans, and Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher, of Columbus, Ga. A beautiful piece of silver was presented Mrs. Jesmier, the national president, by Mrs. Irwin.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha.

Miss Corinne Freeman entertained the members of Epsilon Sigma Alpha chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha society Friday evening at her home on Wesley avenue.

Members present were Misses Ethel Pharr, educational director; Mrs. Minnie Jackson, Misses Pearl Blackwell, Emily Marge, Mathilda Scott, Elsie Layton, Thelma Ingram, Phoebe Midgley, Carrie Mesdames W. R. McCollum, Jack Gordon and Miss Lacy. Other guests present were Mrs. Paul Turner, Mrs. Redmond Jackson, Miss Grace Freeman and Mrs. S. D. Freeman.

AUNT MARTHA'S CORNER

This block is also known as Grandmother's Favorite, and to see it worked out in the old-fashioned blue and white calico and white muslin, it is not a heavy tax upon the imagination to see Grandmother herself working at it. Of course, any color combination, even print and color would be pretty. The block, which is 16 inches across, would make a pillow of nice size. For a quilt it is pretty set with strips of color. The pattern gives correct cutting lines, as well as an illustration of the block, directions and estimated yardage, as well as suggested color, number C290.

Cutting pattern number C290, 15 cents. Allow a week to ten days for delivery. Clip and mail to Aunt Martha, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Government scientists have made weather tests in cotton fields, to show cotton growers how soon cotton bolls should be picked to avoid lowering of the grade from weather effects.

SOCIETY EVENTS

TUESDAY, MARCH 21.

Mesdames J. B. Buchanan, R. L. Brannen, W. C. Ford, James B. Riley and E. W. Andrew will entertain at a reception honoring W. E. Thompson, president of LaGrange College, and Mrs. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Stipe will be hosts at dinner in compliment to Miss Louise Finch and the Rev. John Willard Leggett.

Mrs. Frieda Mooney, national commander of the Women's Auxiliary to the Disabled American Veterans of the World War, will speak this evening at 7:30 o'clock at a meeting of the D. A. V. organizations and auxiliaries at Veterans' Hospital 48.

Atlanta chapter, U. D. C., will sponsor a silver tea at the home of Mrs. George Knott, at 875 Myrtle street, this afternoon.

Woman's Auxiliary of Georgia Baptist hospital will serve luncheon in the clubroom on the fifth floor at St. George's, Whitehall street, from 1 to 2 o'clock.

Mrs. Winifred Wynn will be hostess at a bridge-tee and shower at her home on Emory drive this afternoon, honoring Mrs. Morgan Driskell, recent bride.

Miss Mary Crenshaw will be hostess at tea at the Atlanta Athletic Club, honoring Miss Elizabeth Sheldon and her guest, Miss Leafie Wilbur.

Mrs. S. C. Prim will entertain the Mothers' class of First Baptist

Kappa Delta Sorority Alumnae Give Tea At Druid Hills Club

Atlanta Alumnae Association of the Kappa Delta sorority entertained a tea Saturday, March 18, at Druid Hills Golf Club in honor of the patronesses of the Alpha Tau chapter at Oglethorpe University. A business meeting preceded the tea and committees were appointed to assist with the Pan-Hellenic benefit bridge. Kappa Delta alumnae are to co-operate with the Alpha Delta Phi alumnae in furnishing refreshments for the benefit, which is to be held March 25 at the Shrine Mosque.

Patronesses include Mesdames L. E. Chaloner, George Jewett, W. T. Wilson, Henry Porter and S. F. Boykin. Officers of the Atlanta alumnae include Mesdames E. K. Higginbottom, Robert Martin, William S. Dennis Jr., Homer R. Sanford and Miss Carolyn Bennett.

Members of the Atlanta Alumnae Association are Mesdames Albert Anderson, Ralph Brooks, R. Brooks, Lewis Barber, R. H. Butler, William Caldwell, Charles Collier, J. Courtney, Knowles Davis, William S. Dennis Jr., Herndon Freewy, C. R. Drummond, Ralph Fisher, R. H. Gaston, G. W. Gifford, Philip Graves, C. L. Hardwick, Robert Hicks, Dan Hinson, T. H. Jack, Charles Kinsey, A. S. Libby, Hinton Longino, Lucius Lamar, Alfred H. Lloyd, Ed. Miles, Stewart Myers, George McCarthy, Robert McMichael, Henry Palmer, T. Croom, McMichael, Vernon Powell, James Riley, Frank Rollins, Street Russell, Ward H. Sachs, Bryant M. Sells, Henry Troutman, E. N. Seymour, Robert Bryan, Clay Sperry, Thomas Hall, William C. Warren Jr., Harry T. Harper, John P. Woodall, Misses Lee Bennett, Helen Boardman, Christine Post, Betty Crandall, Jane de Bruyn Kops, Alice Epps, Mary X. Gunter, Katherine Koonce, Edith Marshall, Nonnie

Mrs. John D. Little has returned to Oakland Plantation at Leesburg, Ga., after spending several days in Atlanta.

Henderson Hallman is convalescing from a fracture of the hip at Crawford W. Long hospital. Mr. Hallman fractured his hip in a fall on the ice during the February sleetstorm.

Miss Marie Davis is ill at the Barizon-Plaza hotel in New York city.

Mrs. Ben T. Smith and her sister, Maughan, Sophie Meskin, Elizabeth Meredith, Addie Mundy, Gertrude Murray, Frances MacKiran, Margaret Neuhoff, Martha Jean Osborne, Virginia Ray, Elsie Shover, Sally Spaulding, Ida Thomas, Ione Thompson, Miriam Varner, Ruth Wesley and Bertha Wheelock.

Sunday school at 2:30 o'clock at her home, 619 West Peachtree.

Personal Intelligence

Miss Nellie Bowen is ill at Piedmont hospital.

Miss Gertrude Brown has returned to her home at Charlottesville, Va., after a visit to Miss Marion Calhoun at her home on Andrews drive.

Mrs. William T. Healey and baby daughter, Callie Jackson Healey, have been removed from Piedmont hospital to their home on Valley road.

Due to a change in army orders, Lieutenant and Mrs. Morgan, who planned to leave at an early date for duty in the Philippine Islands, will continue to reside at Fort McPherson.

Mrs. Edwin F. Yancy is ill with influenza at her home on Sixteenth street.

Miss Ann Cecilia McGarry, who has been spending the spring holidays with her aunt, Miss Kate Longman, has returned to Athens, where she is a student at the University of Georgia.

Mrs. Pattie Gilbert, who has been ill at the Georgia Baptist hospital for 10 days, has returned to her home on Delmar avenue.

Mrs. John D. Little has returned to Oakland Plantation at Leesburg, Ga., after spending several days in Atlanta.

Henderson Hallman is convalescing from a fracture of the hip at Crawford W. Long hospital. Mr. Hallman fractured his hip in a fall on the ice during the February sleetstorm.

Miss Marie Davis is ill at the Barizon-Plaza hotel in New York city.

Mrs. Ben T. Smith and her sister, Maughan, Sophie Meskin, Elizabeth Meredith, Addie Mundy, Gertrude Murray, Frances MacKiran, Margaret Neuhoff, Martha Jean Osborne, Virginia Ray, Elsie Shover, Sally Spaulding, Ida Thomas, Ione Thompson, Miriam Varner, Ruth Wesley and Bertha Wheelock.

Miss Judy Kin, sailed Saturday from New York on the Monarch of Bermuda for a short stay in Bermuda.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh M. Lamar and Miss Helen Lamar have returned from Fort Myers and Miami, Fla., where they spent the winter.

Seth White, "I. A. Brettingham, Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Patterson and L. E. Gillespie are at the Hotel Seminole in Jacksonville, Fla.

J. H. Rickerich, of Cleveland, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Lockhart, of Dayton, Tenn.; H. G. Hancock, of Charleston, S. C., and Charles R. Dugan, of Tuscaloosa, Ala., are at the Georgian Terrace.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Livingston Jr. announce the birth of a son March 16, who has been given the name of Charles III. Mrs. Livingston was formerly Miss Bessie Brodnax.

Biltmore Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Ireland, of Columbus, Ohio; Mr. and Mrs. Cason J. Callaway, of LaGrange, Ga.; Mrs. R. V. Cooper, of Anderson, Ind.; Mrs. R. Evans, of Nashville, Tenn.; M. V. Myers of Greensboro, N. C.; W. Guy Langhorn, of Greensboro, N. C.; F. B. Wilhite, of Krimmingham, Ala.; Victor A. Hanson, of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Carl Esby Jr., of Savannah, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hollingsworth, of Jackson, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Pope, of Waverly, Ill.; Joseph N. Durgen, of Larchmont, N. Y.; Neil D. Sills, of Richmond, Va.; W. R. Waggoner, of Birmingham, Ala.; A. M. Campbell, of Montreal, Canada; J. S. Ireland, of Montreal, Canada; C. H. Heyl, of Montreal, Canada; B. F. Tucker Jr., of Boston, Mass.; C. Carver, of Charleston, S. C.; W. A. S. J. Gillfillan, of Chicago, Ill., are at the Biltmore.

College Preparatory Club met recently with Miss Dorothy Dent, when alumnae of Mount Holyoke and Sophie Newcomb Colleges were present and talked on their colleges. The Vocational Club members were recently entertained by Miss Leone Brooks at her home on Springdale road, when Mrs. Latane Montague gave a talk on interior decorating.

given next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Rich's tea room. Patrons of the school, their friends and children are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served. Table prizes will be awarded. Admission is 25 cents a person or $1 a table. For reservations telephone Mrs. E. J. Reid, Dearborn 1440, or Mrs. E. R. Partridge, Dearborn 3017.

Benefit Bridge.

The benefit bridge sponsored by the Druid Hills Elementary School P. T. A., scheduled for March 8, will be

Seminary Students Will Give Programs

Members of the Athletic Association of Washington Seminary will sponsor a performance at the Tenth Street theater Wednesday evening, March 22, when seminary students will give acrobatic performances. Appearing on the program will be Misses Mary Helmer, Nina Fuller, Marion Clark, Rosebud Leide, Mary Frances Yates, Eleanor Terhune, Elise Terhune, Adele Ruffner, Virginia Murray, Frances Lamer, Christine Thelen, Marguerite Rodde, Babs Zuber, Anne Dargan, Betty Huff, Elizabeth Treseder, Sarah Hopkins, Marie Beckett, Annet Hightower, Claire Harty, Tommie Quinn, Betty Zuber, Jackie Vernoy and Jane Bussey.

The 1933 edition of the seminary annual, Facts and Fancies, will commemorate the 25th anniversary of the death of Joel Chandler Harris, beloved creator of the Uncle Remus stories, and permission has been given the students to use characters from these well-known stories to illustrate the year-book. Miss Virginia Merry is editor-in-chief of the annual and Miss Leone Brooks is editor-in-chief of the Missesma, school magazine. Mrs. Virginia Heath and Miss Nora Belle Starke are faculty members who aid with these publications.

College Preparatory Club met recently with Miss Dorothy Dent, when alumnae of Mount Holyoke and Sophie Newcomb Colleges were present and talked on their colleges. The Vocational Club members were recently entertained by Miss Leone Brooks at her home on Springdale road, when Mrs. Latane Montague gave a talk on interior decorating.

given next Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Rich's tea room. Patrons of the school, their friends and children are invited to attend. Refreshments will be served. Table prizes will be awarded. Admission is 25 cents a person or $1 a table. For reservations telephone Mrs. E. J. Reid, Dearborn 1440, or Mrs. E. R. Partridge, Dearborn 3017.

Benefit Bridge.

The benefit bridge sponsored by the Druid Hills Elementary School P. T. A., scheduled for March 8, will be

"Who Wouldn't Wax Enthusiastic?" Asks Stella Daniel

"I've often wished for this chance to say how I enjoy showing you our lovely things to wear. It's fun to see your eyes light up at sight of some exciting little cape suit or becoming sport coat.

"I like bringing out model after model for your inspection. Whether you buy or not, it's a great adventure to see if I can choose first the type just right for your looks and personality.

"So don't hesitate to ask my help, whether you can buy at once or not. Come and browse around. Make yourself at home. Davison's-Third-Floor is your clothes headquarters. I'm always here, and a dozen other girls who feel the same way I do. Hope you come at least once a week to look about on Davison's-Third-Floor!"

Stella Daniel

Yes...WE MATCH YOUR Personality EVEN WHEN IT Changes

Remember the princess in the fairy tale who had twenty different heads, and could change them at will? We think most every creature feminine has more than one personality—hence the need for variety in the things we wear!

This season we have a new, fascinating way to satisfy that craving on Davison's-Third-Floor. You select a coat or suit—and it turns out to be three or four costumes in disguise!

Suppose now you choose this tailored suit of softest soft light-weight wool, in a creamy tan called "Oatmeal." The close-fitting yoke gives a gentle shoulder line. Size 14—$16.75.

On days when you're a bit dignified, wear this with beige or brown hat, bag, and shoes. Then perhaps on some gala week-end you feel like making a splash—so be it, then wear accessories in red. Another day, link this same costume with green or blue. It's great fun!

For a dressy formal coat, observe the graceful lines of this pebbly wool crepe in putty beige. It can be worn over most any color of dress—that's the joy about the neutral beiges and greys that are raging this season. A little capelet over the sleeves in this model looks like a cape, but leaves the back free: that spares you the cut-in-two effect and yet softens the sleeves. Fox fur makes a luxurious trim. This is the kind of coat your boy-friend will rave over. Size 14—$49.75.

Surely the princess would allow only her very best personality to enjoy the next coat suit. It has that subtle way of fitting around shoulders and waist to bring out the best points of the figure. Brown galyak trims the scarf, and accents a sleeve that is at once dashing and dainty. It's a soft greyish beige in a diagonal weave. Size 14, price $39.75.

Don't wait any longer to see the great collection of coats and suits on Davison's-Third-Floor. They're pouring in every day—fresh, to-the-minute, made from all the new, pebbly, crepey, blistered surface wools that Paris and New York approve for the future.

You don't need a fairy—like the princess—to create costumes for each of your several selves! You can build them all yourself for next to nothing on Davison's-Third-Floor!

Our "Then and Now" Column Evolution of the Tailored Suit

1880—No such animal as a suit for women. They wear "gowns" with dolman or jacket for extra warmth.

1890—England develops a walking costume from the riding habit. Feature hiking in this!

1900—America has added the shirtwaist, but still keeps the waist measure wasp-like. This model won't admit a woman had feet!

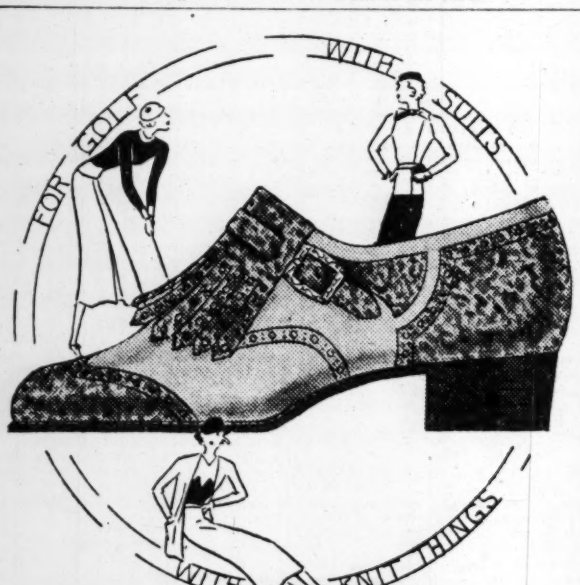

1905—Still a street sweeper, but it requires fewer petticoats and has smaller hips.

1916—Women have learned to walk, and like it. This begins to look human.

1928—Women have invaded business... declared for freedom at any cost.

1933—Freedom aplenty, but beauty and charm, too. The suits described at left show it as worn in Atlanta.

1934—Is this the suit of tomorrow? See this on Davison's-Third-Floor. Has coat, skirt and trousers to match. Yes, we said pants! Makes an ensemble do for active sports and street wear. Sizes 12-20. Price $16.75.

KILTIE

the Scotch brogue oxford with the Scotch price. $6

Hoot, lassie, it's a Scotch trick indeed, to make this one shoe do the work of three or four. Kiltie gets its name from the fringed tongue that looks like a Highlander's kilt—and its fame from its solid comfort and braw good looks.

Tan Buckskin with Mottled Brown Trim
White Buckskin with Brown Calf Trim
Gray Buckskin with Gray Calf Trim

For $1 Extra—Spikes Attached for Golf
Women's Better Shoes, Second Floor

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA—affiliated with MACY'S, New York

DAVISON-PAXON CO.
ATLANTA—Affiliated with Macy's—NEW YORK

Stocks Follow Irregular Trend

Issues Gain

ON BEES PASSAGE

Daily Stock Summary

(Copyright, 1933, Standard Statistics Co.)

Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
114.15	114.15	114.15	114.15	114.15	114.15	114.15

What the Market Did

Number of advances... 128
Number of declines... 250
Number of stocks... 112

Tone of the Markets

NEW YORK. STOCKS—Steady. BONDS—Irregular. COTTON—Irregular.

By JOHN L. COOLEY

NEW YORK, March 20.—(P)—Stocks lost momentum and, on the average, some ground, in today's trading.

The trend was narrowly irregular throughout most of a quiet session, though toward closing time utilities and industrial stocks weakened moderately, giving final prices a reactionary appearance. Rails, which had been firm, yielded their gains, though their equipment issues remained buoyant, and were pushed forward by bullish-minded traders.

Heaviness of wheat doubtless influenced share market sentiment to some extent. However, the narrow range of fluctuations in wheat, and the fact that Wall Street was content to do little except mark time.

Rails obviously drew encouragement from the White House visit of several car executives. Rail stocks saw maximum gains of a fraction to about two points divide or disappear, but the "wet" issues finished around their highs, stimulated by approval of 3.2 beer. Owens Illinois was up more than 2 while Crown Cork also gained a couple of points.

Utilities turned sour in the late dealing. American Gas was down a point, but stocks like U. S. Steel, General Electric, Chrysler, General Motors, and Case limited their losses to smaller margins, brought forward by 2 but closed unchanged. Sales totaled 778,000 shares.

Markets found fresh developments scarce. United States government bonds fell back moderately. The dollar gave a rather noteworthy demonstration of strength against Europe's gold currencies.

Declining interest charges kept the spotlight on the return of confidence and the backflow of capital to normal channels. Bankers' associates were cut to the unusually large extent of 7.5 of 1 per cent, while stock exchange call loans slipped to 3 per cent after renewing at 3 1/2. Funds were offered "outside" at 2 1/2.

Published opinions as to prospects for business recovery pointed out that numerous obstacles must be surmounted in the next few months and that the worst reversal witnessed last week will probably need to be seasoned by time.

Nevertheless, weekly investment advisers unanimously agreed that strong weapons were being used in the fight for recovery.

Foreign Markets

LONDON.—Trading on the stock exchange today was bright and cheerful and there was a broadening of business due to cheap money. Investment in foreign securities was active. Foreign bonds improved smartly and gilt-edged securities were smartly sold. Investment in foreign securities was active. Foreign bonds improved smartly and gilt-edged securities were smartly sold. Investment in foreign securities was active. Foreign bonds improved smartly and gilt-edged securities were smartly sold.

Sugar, Coffee, Rice

NEW YORK, March 20.—Raw sugar was inactive today, but the market was firm on a continued good inquiry at bid prices of 3 cents. Sales were 25,000 bags of Puerto Rico sugar for April-May at 3.02, 3 cents, and 10,000 bags of higher quality sugar for April-May at 3.04, 3 cents.

Future closed 2 points higher to 3 net lower. The opening was unchanged to 3 points lower.

Continued lack of segregation in Cuba, as well as firmness of the spot market, led to renewed covering and a rise in buying and selling prices about 4 points from the lows. May sold from 1.08 to 1.12, with the market closing at about the best, except March 1934, which closed at 1.08.

May was 37.20, June 37.20, July 37.20, August 37.20, September 37.20, October 37.20, November 37.20, December 37.20.

COFFEE

NEW YORK, March 20.—Coffee was active today, with prices firm and steady, being promoted by reports of eastness in the market for mild coffees.

No 7 contracts opened at 12 1/2 and closed 3 1/2 to 3 1/2 lower. Sales 1,000 Santos opened at 12 1/2 and closed 12 1/2 to 12 1/2 lower. Sales 1,000 Santos opened at 12 1/2 and closed 12 1/2 to 12 1/2 lower.

RICE

NEW YORK, March 20.—Clean rice prices were steady, with prices well maintained and a continued good inquiry reported.

Blue Rice, extra fancy 24 1/2; Edith, extra fancy 24 1/2; Lady Wigham, extra fancy 24 1/2; Early Prolific, extra fancy 24 1/2; Rexona, extra fancy 24 1/2; Broken rice 24 1/2.

Commodity Price Level

NEW YORK, March 20.—Index of 15 staple commodity prices:

Monday 87.1; Tuesday 87.4; Wednesday 87.4; Thursday 87.4; Friday 87.4; Saturday 87.4; Sunday 87.4.

Complete New York Stock Exchange List

NEW YORK, March 20.—Following is the complete list of today's stock transactions on the New York Stock Exchange:

SALES (In 100s) Div. High-Low-Close-Change

2 Hupp Mot. 21 21 21 21 21

40 Ill Cent. 141 141 141 141 141

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

11 Adams Exp. 11 11 11 11 11

1932 Production of Cotton Shows Decrease From '31, '30

WASHINGTON, March 20.—(P)—Cotton production for 1932, as shown today by the census bureau's spinning report, was 12,032,281 running bales, counting round bales as half bales, or 12,032,281 equivalent 500-pound bales, compared with 16,028,871 and 17,005,504 for 1931 and 13,755,518 and 13,911,597 for 1930.

Round bales included and counted as half bales in the running bales total numbered 722,152, compared with 621,370 in 1931.

Included in the 1932 figures are 30,900 bales, which spinners estimated would be turned in after the March canvass.

The average gross weight of bales for the crop was 511.5 pounds, compared with 514.0 pounds for 1931.

Ginlings by state in running bales and equivalent 500-pound bales follow:

Alabama, 933,805 and 948,902; Arizona, 67,170 and 68,228; Arkansas, 1,282,660 and 1,325,048; California, 124,473 and 129,488; Florida, 15,580 and 15,151; Georgia, 801,906 and 854,470; Louisiana, 900,880 and 910,413; Mississippi, 1,160,741 and 1,179,301; Missouri, 300,501 and 300,640; New Mexico, 67,485 and 68,042; North Carolina, 670,680 and 662,785; Oklahoma, 1,071,883 and 1,083,591; South Carolina, 721,646 and 715,678; Tennessee, 467,573 and 480,432; Texas, 4,303,580 and 4,407,274; Virginia, 31,316 and 31,144; all other states, 13,989 and 14,418.

Included in the 1932 figures are 30,900 bales, which spinners estimated would be turned in after the March canvass.

The average gross weight of bales for the crop was 511.5 pounds, compared with 514.0 pounds for 1931.

Ginlings by state in running bales and equivalent 500-pound bales follow:

Alabama, 933,805 and 948,902; Arizona, 67,170 and 68,228; Arkansas, 1,282,660 and 1,325,048; California, 124,473 and 129,488; Florida, 15,580 and 15,151; Georgia, 801,906 and 854,470; Louisiana, 900,880 and 910,413; Mississippi, 1,160,741 and 1,179,301; Missouri, 300,501 and 300,640; New Mexico, 67,485 and 68,042; North Carolina, 670,680 and 662,785; Oklahoma, 1,071,883 and 1,083,591; South Carolina, 721,646 and 715,678; Tennessee, 467,573 and 480,432; Texas, 4,303,580 and 4,407,274; Virginia, 31,316 and 31,144; all other states, 13,989 and 14,418.

Included in the 1932 figures are 30,900 bales, which spinners estimated would be turned in after the March canvass.

The average gross weight of bales for the crop was 511.5 pounds, compared with 514.0 pounds for 1931.

Ginlings by state in running bales and equivalent 500-pound bales follow:

Alabama, 933,805 and 948,902; Arizona, 67,170 and 68,228; Arkansas, 1,282,660 and 1,325,048; California, 124,473 and 129,488; Florida, 15,580 and 15,151; Georgia, 801,906 and 854,470; Louisiana, 900,880 and 910,413; Mississippi, 1,160,741 and 1,179,301; Missouri, 300,501 and 300,640; New Mexico, 67,485 and 68,042; North Carolina, 670,680 and 662,785; Oklahoma, 1,071,883 and 1,083,591; South Carolina, 721,646 and 715,678; Tennessee, 467,573 and 480,432; Texas, 4,303,580 and 4,407,274; Virginia, 31,316 and 31,144; all other states, 13,989 and 14,418.

Included in the 1932 figures are 30,900 bales, which spinners estimated would be turned in after the March canvass.

The average gross weight of bales for the crop was 511.5 pounds, compared with 514.0 pounds for 1931.

Ginlings by state in running bales and equivalent 500-pound bales follow:

Alabama, 933,805 and 948,902; Arizona, 67,170 and 68,228; Arkansas, 1,282,660 and 1,325,048; California, 124,473 and 129,488; Florida, 15,580 and 15,151; Georgia, 801,906 and 854,470; Louisiana, 900,880 and 910,413; Mississippi, 1,160,741 and 1,179,301; Missouri, 300,501 and 300,640; New Mexico, 67,485 and 68,042; North Carolina, 670,680 and 662,785; Oklahoma, 1,071,883 and 1,083,591; South Carolina, 721,646 and 715,678; Tennessee, 467,573 and 480,432; Texas, 4,303,580 and 4,407,274; Virginia, 31,316 and 31,144; all other states, 13,989 and 14,418.

Included in the 1932 figures are 30,900 bales, which spinners estimated would be turned in after the March canvass.

The average gross weight of bales for the crop was 511.5 pounds, compared with 514.0 pounds for 1931.

Ginlings by state in running bales and equivalent 500-pound bales follow:

Alabama, 933,805 and 948,902; Arizona, 67,170 and 68,228; Arkansas, 1,282,660 and 1,325,048; California, 124,473 and 129,488; Florida, 15,580 and 15,151; Georgia, 801,906 and 854,470; Louisiana, 900,880 and 910,413; Mississippi, 1,160,741 and 1,179,301; Missouri, 300,501 and 300,640; New Mexico, 67,485 and 68,042; North Carolina, 670,680 and 662,785; Oklahoma, 1,071,883 and 1,083,591; South Carolina, 721,646 and 715,678; Tennessee, 467,573 and 480,432; Texas, 4,303,580 and 4,407,274; Virginia, 31,316 and 31,144; all other states, 13,989 and 14,418.

Included in the 1932 figures are 30,900 bales, which spinners estimated would be turned in after the March canvass.

The average gross weight of bales for the crop was 511.5 pounds, compared with 514.0 pounds for 1931.

Ginlings by state in running bales and equivalent 500-pound bales follow:

Alabama, 933,805 and 948,902; Arizona, 67,170 and 68,228; Arkansas, 1,282,660 and 1,325,048; California, 124,473 and 129,488; Florida, 15,580 and 15,151; Georgia, 801,906 and 854,470; Louisiana, 900,880 and 910,413; Mississippi, 1,160,741 and 1,179,301; Missouri, 300,501 and 300,640; New Mexico, 67,485 and 68,042; North Carolina, 670,680 and 662,785; Oklahoma, 1,071,883 and 1,083,591; South Carolina, 721,646 and 715,678; Tennessee, 467,573 and 480,432; Texas, 4,303,580 and 4,407,274; Virginia, 31,316 and 31,144; all other states, 13,989 and 14,418.

Included in the 1932 figures are 30,900 bales, which spinners estimated would be turned in after the March canvass.

The average gross weight of bales for the crop was 511.5 pounds, compared with 514.0 pounds for 1931.

Ginlings by state in running bales and equivalent 500-pound bales follow:

Alabama, 933,805 and 948,902; Arizona, 67,170 and 68,228; Arkansas, 1,282,660 and 1,325,048; California, 124,473 and 129,488; Florida, 15,580 and 15,151; Georgia, 801,906 and 854,470; Louisiana, 900,880 and 910,413; Mississippi, 1,160,741 and 1,179,301; Missouri, 300,501 and 300,640; New Mexico, 67,485 and 68,042; North Carolina, 670,680 and 662,785; Oklahoma, 1,071,883 and 1,083,591; South Carolina, 721,646 and 715,678; Tennessee, 467,573 and 480,432; Texas, 4,303,580 and 4,407,274; Virginia, 31,316 and 31,144; all other states, 13,989 and 14,418.

Included in the 1932 figures are 30,900 bales, which spinners estimated would be turned in after the March canvass.

The average gross weight of bales for the crop was 511.5 pounds,

PROTECTION

RESOURCES OF THE "NORTH AMERICA" COMPANIES

All Security Values Based Upon Market Quotations as of December 31, 1932

	CAPITAL	†ASSETS	LIABILITIES	†SURPLUS TO POLICY HOLDERS	NET LOSSES PAID SINCE ORGANIZATION
Insurance Company of North America . . .	$12,000,000	$72,042,833	$31,367,942	$40,674,891	$393,019,596
*Alliance Insurance Company of Phila. . .	1,000,000	7,526,309	3,242,675	4,283,634	28,881,345
*Philadelphia Fire and Marine Ins. Co. . .	1,000,000	4,306,322	1,852,780	2,453,542	7,305,445
National Security Fire Ins. Company . .	1,000,000	2,184,505	587,877	1,596,628	2,457,661
*Central Fire Insurance Co. of Baltimore .	1,000,000	3,116,638	1,356,184	1,760,454	7,535,192
*Indemnity Ins. Co. of North America . .	1,000,000	14,651,300	12,506,868	2,144,432	63,772,429
*Alliance Casualty Company, Phila. . . .	1,000,000	4,770,764	3,268,030	1,502,734	4,780,855

*More than 99% owned by Insurance Company of North America

More than 98% owned by Insurance Company of North America

DISTRIBUTION OF ASSETS OF THE "NORTH AMERICA" COMPANIES

(Security values based upon last sale or average of quotations as of December 31, 1932)

	Insurance Company of North America	Alliance Insurance Company of Phila.	Philadelphia Fire and Marine Ins. Co.	National Security Fire Ins. Company	Central Fire Ins. Co. of Baltimore	Indemnity Ins. Co. of North America	Alliance Casualty Company, Phila.	TOTALS
U. S. GOVERNMENT BONDS	$ 6,098,166.25	$ 673,968.75	$ 725,812.50	$ 612,556.41	$ 218,359.38	$3,218,618.76	$1,451,625.00	$12,999,107.05
CASH	5,025,847.15	1,367,448.80	837,131.06	202,444.29	363,456.95	1,262,503.81	479,101.31	9,537,933.37
PREMIUMS in Course of Collection . . .	3,174,151.46	392,292.18	439,847.79	133,105.38	156,612.33	1,999,394.50	734,138.49	7,029,542.13
OTHER BONDS
State, County & Municipal	3,093,670.00	876,600.00	125,300.00	608,970.00	257,461.00	866,000.00	892,380.00	6,720,381.00
Canadian Gov't, Province & Municipal .	836,434.67	138,830.00	96,240.00			363,700.00		1,435,204.67
Other Foreign	11,649.00				1,700.00			13,349.00
Railroad Equipment Trust	1,333,690.00	79,950.00	85,810.00	111,560.00		450,610.00		2,061,620.00
Railroad (largely underlying mortgages) .	4,566,510.00	851,620.00	532,600.00	345,660.00	264,560.00	637,440.00	11,000.00	7,209,390.00
Public Utility	2,131,150.00	345,280.00	172,250.00		43,950.00	542,500.00		3,235,130.00
Industrial	5,278,205.00	312,500.00	110,000.00		97,550.00	942,180.00		6,740,435.00
STOCKS (Preferred and Guaranteed) . .	11,297,026.00	1,936,245.00	804,900.00	144,400.00	190,205.00	3,355,787.00	1,054,900.00	18,783,463.00
STOCKS (Common)
Railroad	1,024,000.00	26,940.00	34,200.00		9,765.00	64,800.00		1,159,705.00
Public Utility	1,766,400.00	193,400.00			139,400.00	297,300.00	53,500.00	2,450,000.00
Industrial	6,359,479.97	195,800.00	299,000.00		70,014.00	334,180.00	20,000.00	7,278,473.97
Bank	1,286,210.00				439,776.00	65,000.00	41,000.00	1,831,986.00
Miscellaneous	24,670.00	17,500.00	17,000.00	250.00	6,775.00			66,195.00
OTHER ASSETS	5,044,073.10*	117,935.10	26,231.13	25,559.58	857,053.92*	251,286.74	33,119.73	6,355,259.30*
STOCKS Owned in Affiliated Companies .	13,691,500.57							13,691,500.57
TOTALS ASSETS (Prices based on quotations of December 31, 1932)	$72,042,833.17	$ 7,526,309.83	$ 4,306,322.48	$ 2,184,505.66	$ 3,116,638.58	$14,651,300.81	$ 4,770,764.53	$108,598,675.06

*Chiefly Companies Office Buildings

NET TOTAL (Less Affiliated Companies' Stocks Owned by Insurance Company of North America) $94,907,174.49

†Use of Valuations adopted by the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners would increase Surplus to Policy Holders and Assets by

$13,313,535.79 $1,080,041.68 $536,245.00 $362,271.60 $534,060.12 $1,792,017.79 $287,393.75 $17,905,565.73

THE "NORTH AMERICA" COMPANIES WRITE PRACTICALLY EVERY FORM OF INSURANCE EXCEPT LIFE

Insurance Company of North America

PHILADELPHIA

The Oldest American Fire and Marine Insurance Company

Founded 1792

